Incumbents Re-Elected

1 Republican, 5 Democrats Get Council Seats

Five Democrats and one Republican were elected to Circleville City Council in Tuesday's election.

Joseph Bell, Republican candidate for president of council, was unopposed in the election. He received 2,513 complimentary votes.

For the three council-at-large posts Democrats David Crawford, Keith Wagner, both incumbents, and Nobel Barr were elected.

Pick Williams As Governor

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Rep. John Bell Williams, a Democrat who fought his party in Congress for 20 years, today celebrated a landslide victory for the governor's office over spirited Republican opposition by issuing a call for peace and harmony.

The 48-year-old attorney, purged of his seniority in Congress for backing Republican Barry Goldwater for president in 1964, smothered GOP candidate Ruben Phillips in Tuesday's general election turnout.

With 1,785 of the state's 2,155 precincts reporting, Williams had 263,613 votes to 113,375 for Phillips.

Voters in predominantly Negro Holmes County apparently named the first Negro to the legislature since the Reconstruction era. Robert Clark, an independent running with the backing of the Negro-dominated Mississippi Freedom Democratic party, defeated Rep. J.P. Love, 65, on the basis of unofficial returns. Love has served in the House since 1956.

4,853 Cast Votes in City

Approximately three-fourths of Circleville's 4,853 registered voters turned out to the polls Tuesday.

Election officials believe the large turnout of 3,556 voters was due to the mayor's race and the school issues. The last odd-year election of 1961 drew only 2,916 voters.

First results in the city races came in slightly past 8 p.m. when precinct 1-B reported Barnhill leading Gerhardt by 88 to 77 votes.

Barnhill was leading a close race by ten votes until the late hour of 1:40 a.m. when precinct 1-G, at the Atwater school, reported that Gerhardt had picked up 39 votes over Barnhill in their precinct, where Gerhardt carried the poll 161 to 122.

The county reported 5,874 votes this year as opposed to 5,405 votes in the comparable odd-year election of 1965.

Negroes Win In National, Local Races

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Negroes won a variety of offices in Tuesday's election including some historic firsts. Here is a list of Negro winners:

Democrat Carl B. Stokes won his battle to become mayor of Cleveland—and the first Negro chief executive of the eighth largest American city.

Democrat Richard G. Hatcher emerged the winner by 1,495 votes in the race for mayor of Gary, Ind.

Dr. W. Ferguson Reid, a surgeon, became the first Negro member of the Virginia state legislature since the Reconstruction days following the Civil War. He is a Democrat.

The Mississippi state legislature also saw its first Negro since the Reconstruction era with the apparent election of Robert Clark, an independent, by the voter of predominantly Negro Holmes County.

James M. Brady was easily elected sheriff in Charles City County southeast of Richmond, Va., defeating a white incumbent who had held the post 43 years. Mrs. Iona W. Adkins, a housewife and teacher's aide, won the Charles City County clerk's post by a substantial margin.

William C. Ross Jr. was elected to the school committee in Pittsfield, Mass., and James H. Wynn to the regional school committee in North Adams, Mass. They were both the first Negroes elected to public office in those towns.

In Boston where the race issue was an often unspoken factor in the mayor's race, Thomas Atkins, 28, a Harvard law school student, was elected to the City Council—the first Negro to sit on that body in modern memory.

Municipal Court Judge William Parker was re-elected in Waterloo, Iowa, the site of racial disturbances last summer.

In consolidated Jacksonville, Fla., elections, three of four Negro candidates won Democratic nominations over whites.

In addition to Clark, six Negroes were elected to county offices in Mississippi, increasing to 24 the number of Negro office holders in that state.

Of the six, two won posts as county supervisor, two as constables and two a justice of the peace.

Draft Protesters Face Call Ups

WASHINGTON (AP)—College students who have turned in their draft cards to Selective Service offices as a protest gesture against the Vietnam war face the prospect of immediate call-ups.

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, draft director, has told local Selective Service boards that college deferments should be denied men who refuse to carry their classification cards or who physically interfere with armed services recruiting officers visiting college campuses.

Hershey said registrants with out their cards should be reclassified as available for service, with their names advanced to the top of the draft lists.

Voters Approve 5 School Levies

Five school levies met with voters' approval at the polls Tuesday throughout the city and county.

Passage of the levies, according to school officials, places the public schools' local tax incomes above the state imposed minimum requirements.

Educators from all four districts publicly expressed their gratitude to the voters for supplying the necessary funds for operation of the schools.

A great deal of concern was shown by residents during the evening by phone inquiries at The Herald offices.

THE 2.8 mill levy for Circleville School District passed by a vote of 2,235 to 1,451. It was defeated in only five precincts. The levy will be on the tax du-PLICATE for ten years.

Teays Valley's additional four-mill levy gained approval by a margin of 1,278 to 899. Only one precinct failed to give it a majority favorable vote.

Logan Elm's seven-mill renewal was a landslide victory with 722 ballots cast in its favor and only 277 against it.

Westfall School District voters gave a four-mill renewal an affirmative vote of 1,040 compared to 546 in opposition. It carried in every precinct of the district.

Last, but not least, was the county-wide affirmative balloting for the one-tenth mill levy for the Pickaway County School for the Retarded.

It met with the approval of 5,678 votes with 2,755 ballots opposing the small renewal levy.

DeLong, Elsea, Brehmer Elected to School Board

Dale DeLong, Robert L. Brehmer Jr. and Tom Elsea were elected to the Circleville School Board yesterday. Brehmer is the lone incumbent in the trio.

Defeated candidates were E. G. Grigg, a veteran member of the board, and William Thornton, making his first bid for a board seat.

DeLong received 2,420 votes in the election, nearly 500 more than Brehmer, who is presently serving as president of the board. Brehmer's unofficial count is 1,942.

Elsea edged Thornton by just 13 votes for the third seat to be filled on the board. The son of Robert Elsea, long-time board member who did not seek reelection, he had 1,862 votes. Thornton had 1,849. Grigg had 1,769 votes.

OTHER members of the board are Richard Bowers and Rosemary Mader.

National Elections At Glance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Here's a summary of results from some of Tuesday's most important elections:

Mayor—Democrat Carl B. Stokes defeated Republican Seth C. Taft in Cleveland to become the first Negro elected mayor of a major U.S. city; Democrat Richard G. Hatcher, a Negro, defeated Republican Joseph Radigan in Gary, Ind.; Democratic incumbent James H. J. Tate defeated Republican Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter in Philadelphia; Kevin H. White, Massachusetts secretary of state, defeated Louise Day Hicks in Boston's nonpartisan run-off; Republican Ann Uccello became the first woman mayor of Hartford, Conn., defeating Democratic incumbent George B. Kinsella; Mayor Richard C. Lee won an eighth consecutive term in New Haven, Conn.; Democrat Thomas J. D'Alessandro III, son of a former three-term Baltimore mayor, won the city's top post by a 5-1 margin.

Governors—Republican Louie B. Nunn defeated Democrat Henry Ward to give the GOP the Kentucky state house for the first time in 24 years; veteran U.S. Rep. John Bell Williams, a Democrat, won an easy victory over Republican Ruben Phillips in Mississippi.

Legislatures—Democrats retained firm control of the Virginia Legislature with small Republican gains while Democrat William Ferguson Reid of Richmond became the state's first Negro assemblyman elected since 1891; Republicans won control of New Jersey's Legislature; Democrats retained control of the Kentucky Legislature.

Humphrey Returns

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey reported today to President Johnson, the National Security Council and some top leaders of Congress on his trip to South Vietnam and Southeast Asia.

Humphrey returned to Washington Tuesday night after a trip to South Vietnam, Malaysia and Indonesia.

Republicans Now Have 26 Governorships

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cleveland Democrat Carl B. Stokes has become the first Negro elected mayor of a major American city, but Republicans claimed a pattern of victory and an omen for 1968 today in off-year elections which gave the GOP Kentucky's governorship and New Jersey's legislature.

Another Negro Democrat, Richard G. Hatcher, was elected mayor of Gary, Ind., while Louise Day Hicks' backslashed campaign was rejected at the Boston polls.

In Gary as in Cleveland, the mathematics of race was the crucial factor. And the issue of Negro-white balance in the public schools was a key question in Boston, where Secretary of State Kevin H. White was elected mayor in a nonpartisan run-off.

Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss saw in the election returns evidence "that the upsurge in Republican strength which began in 1966 is continuing."

Democratic Chairman John M. Bailey said he discerned no trend at all.

Democrats reclaimed the mayor's office in Baltimore, and held Philadelphia's City Hall despite internal discord and a stern GOP challenge.

On the GOP balance sheet, the Kentucky victory of Louie B. Nunn, rated something of an upset, put Republicans in charge in 26 of the 50 U.S. governor's offices. The states in the GOP column now represent 304 electoral votes, 34 more than the number needed to elect a president in 1968.

In Tuesday's only other gubernatorial race, Rep. John Bell Williams, a Democrat, predictably triumphed in a Mississippi landslide.

Republicans took particular delight in one victory: The upset triumph of Ann Uccello, who ousted incumbent Democrat George B. Kinsella to become

New faces will be seen on the Circleville Board of Education. Dale DeLong and Thomas Elsea will replace E. G. Grigg and Robert Elsea.

AN ELECTION always brings some odd questions at The Herald. One call came in early today from an "interested" area resident, wanting to know who won the governor's election.

The only telephone query that expressed no interest in the local city election, the caller just wanted to know if "Jimmy Rhodes was re-elected."

LAST NIGHT'S fog was heavy. It was so heavy, in fact, that a northend resident looked out of her window and thought the billowing vapor was smoke coming from Olie's Take Home.

She called the fire department. Fire Lieutenant Mike Brown called the report "an honest mistake."

A DENSE fog shrouded the area last night and this morning. Visibility was at near zero. Paved surfaces were covered with a thin veneer of ice. Daylight cleared the atmosphere somewhat, but a frozen fog was falling at 8:30 a.m.

According to the local weather observer, these conditions were pretty general throughout the southern part of the state.

Zoning Bills Approved by Eight Twps.

Residents of eight townships approved zoning regulations for their areas at the polls Tuesday. Zoning proposals were defeated in Darby and Salt Creek Twps.

Zoning regulations were approved by the following votes: Deer Creek, 114 to 65; Jackson, 125 to 66; Monroe, 189 to 162; Muhlenberg, 54 to 27; Perry, 126 to 92; Pickaway, 188 to 125; Washington 244 to 93; Wayne, 69 to 59.

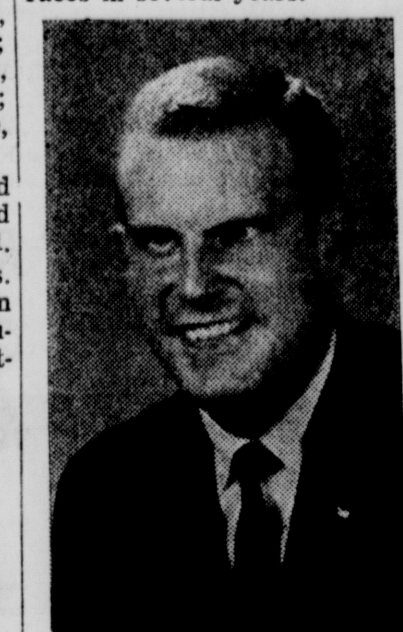

The zoning bills were defeated in Darby Twp. by 215 to 182, and in Salt Creek Twp. by 159 to 131.

Darby and Salt Creek Twps. are now the only two within the county without zoning regulations. Others have been adopted from time-to-time.

Last Precinct Decides Contest

Richard L. Gerhardt, a youthful Democrat, was the voters' favorite in Tuesday's election for the office of Circleville mayor.

Gerhardt defeated Republican Frank Barnhill by a narrow margin of 1,771 to 1,742 in one of the closest major local races in several years.

RICHARD L. GERHARDT

The contest wasn't decided until the last precinct (1-G at Atwater School) reported in after 1 a.m. Up to that point Barnhill was in the lead by less than ten votes. Returns from 1-G came in giving Gerhardt 161 ballots and Barnhill 122, thus deciding the race in Gerhardt's favor.

As the returns came in, precinct-by-precinct, the lead would change from one candidate to the other.

THE victorious candidate is a Circleville native and a third generation attorney. His grandfather, the late Charles Gerhardt, practiced law here, as well as his father, the late George E. Gerhardt. Both served several terms as county prosecutor.

Young Gerhardt defeated W. Harold Clifton, current council president, and Everett (Tommy) Thompson for the Democratic nomination in May. He will replace veteran Circleville Mayor Ben H. Gordon, also a Democrat.

Prior to establishing his law practice in Circleville, Gerhardt was an administrative aid to Robert E. Sweeney, former congressman-at-large.

He was a national delegate to the Young Democrats of America National Convention last year in New York. He had previously served as a delegate on the platform committee.

Gerhardt and his wife, Marie, are members of the First Methodist Church. He holds membership in the Circleville Jaycees, the Ohio State Bar Assn., Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity and is on the board of directors of Sigma Phi Epsilon Corp.

The successful candidate carried the majority of votes in nine of the city's 18 precincts. His opponent, Barnhill, carried eight precincts and one was tied.

FOLLOWING is a precinct-by-precinct rundown of the mayor's race yesterday.

1-A Gerhardt 64, Barnhill 121; 1-B Gerhardt 77, Barnhill 88; 1-C Gerhardt 106, Barnhill 134; 1-D Gerhardt 129, Barnhill 86; 1-E Gerhardt 59, Barnhill 66; 1-F Gerhardt 133, Barnhill 174; 1-G Gerhardt 161, Barnhill 122; 1-H Gerhardt 164, Barnhill 185; 1-J Gerhardt 109, Barnhill 149; 2-A Gerhardt 80, Barnhill 76; 2-B Gerhardt 99, Barnhill 78; 2-D Gerhardt 87, Barnhill 75; 3-A Gerhardt 59, Barnhill 72; 3-B Gerhardt 120, Barnhill 68; 4-H Gerhardt 57, Barnhill 57; 4-B Gerhardt 93, Barnhill 67; 4-C Gerhardt 123, Barnhill 92; 4-D Gerhardt 53, Barnhill 32.

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—About 50 employees of the Lawrence County Hospital were absent today, apparently in a move to support their demands to be represented by the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees.

Hospital operations continued with the help of auxiliary personnel and Harold Roth, administrator, said, "All our patients are receiving normal care and the situation is under control."

The 50 employees are among 167 at the hospital employed in the dietary, housekeeping, and nurses aid services. Medical, nursing, and technical services were not affected.

Roth said the absent employees all reported they were "sick" and he said each would be required to show medical proof of illness when he returns to work.

The employees are members of Local 771 of the union which also represents 50 city workers although a collective bargaining election has not been held at the hospital.

Public hospitals are not bound by the National Labor Relations Act.

He and Taft sought to avoid the racial issue but it could not be ignored and one of the heaviest votes in Cleveland's history—257,153—turned out despite a day that began with subfreezing temperatures and driving snow.

Taft, running for his first political office, surprised even his opponent by the way he took to campaigning. He is a Republican in a city where all but 34,000 of its 326,000 registered voters are Democrats.

Taft made it clear he was just as liberal as Stokes. He took an Act and said he would be the mayor's authority to push equal employment opportunities for Negroes.

Stokes, 40 and a natty dresser with an easy humor, bucked his own Democratic party organization to defeat Locher in the Oct.

Stokes lost no time after his victory to call for a united Cleveland. He asked for his opponent to join him in building a better city.

Taft responded. He asked his

Stokes Wins Razor Thin Race for Cleveland Mayor

CLEVELAND (AP) — Carl B. Stokes, a product of the slums, became the first Negro Tuesday to be elected mayor of one of America's 10 largest cities.

Stokes, in all his battles up the social, economic and political ladders, never had to fight harder than he did to beat Republican Seth C. Taft for Cleveland's mayoral office.

His razor-thin edge of 2,501 votes—129,829 to 127,328—was in doubt almost to the end.

Taft, a grandson of a president and nephew of the late U.S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, grabbed a sizeable lead early and held it until Negro East Side votes began to come in.

Stokes lost no time after his victory to call for a united Cleveland. He asked for his opponent to join him in building a better city.

Taft responded. He asked his supporters, who had tried to make him the first Republican mayor of Cleveland in 24 years, to "forget words spoken in heat and to think now of things that can be done to make ours a great city."

Taft said he would wait until he saw the official tally before deciding whether to call for a recount. Two years ago when Stokes lost his independent race against Democratic Mayor Ralph S. Locher by 2,143 he got a recount before he conceded.

Stokes received heavy support from the Negro East Side. He came out of the white sections trailing but within striking range. He substantially increased his percentage of the white vote from the 17 per cent he received in the primary.

Stokes, 40 and a natty dresser with an easy humor, bucked his own Democratic party organization to defeat Locher in the Oct.

Pick Williams As Governor

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Rep. John Bell Williams, a Democrat who fought his party in Congress for 20 years, today celebrated a landslide victory for the governor's office over spirited Republican opposition by issuing a call for peace and harmony.

The 48-year-old attorney, purged of his seniority in Congress for backing Republican Barry Goldwater for president in 1964, smothered GOP candidate Rubel Phillips in Tuesday's general election turnout.

With 1,785 of the state's 2,155 precincts reporting, Williams had 263,613 votes to 113,375 for Phillips.

Voters in predominantly Negro Holmes County apparently named the first Negro to the legislature since the Reconstruction era. Robert Clark, an independent running with the backing of the Negro-dominated Mississippi Freedom Democratic party, defeated Rep. J.P. Love, 65, on the basis of unofficial returns. Love has served in the House since 1956.

4,853 Cast Votes in City

Approximately three-fourths of Circleville's 4,853 registered voters turned out to the polls Tuesday.

Election officials believe the large turnout of 3,556 voters was due to the mayor's race and the school issues. The last odd-year election of 1965 drew only 2,916 voters.

First results in the city races came in slightly past 8 p.m. when precinct 1-B reported Barnhill leading Gerhardt by 88 to 77 votes.

Barnhill was leading a close race by ten votes until the late hour of 1:40 a.m. when precinct 1-G, at the Atwater school, reported that Gerhardt had picked up 39 votes over Barnhill in their precinct, where Gerhardt carried the poll 161 to 122.

The county reported 5,874 votes this year as opposed to 5,405 votes in the comparable odd-year election of 1965.

Negroes Win In National, Local Races

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Negroes won a variety of offices in Tuesday's election including some historic firsts. Here is a list of Negro winners:

Democrat Carl B. Stokes won his battle to become mayor of Cleveland—and the first Negro chief executive of the eighth largest American city.

Dr. W. Ferguson Reid, a surgeon, became the first Negro member of the Virginia state legislature since the Reconstruction days following the Civil War. He is a Democrat.

The Mississippi state legislature also saw its first Negro since the Reconstruction era with the apparent election of Robert Clark, an independent, by the voter of predominantly Negro Holmes County.

James M. Brady was easily elected sheriff in Charles City County southeast of Richmond, Va., defeating a white incumbent who had held the post 43 years. Mrs. Iona W. Adkins, a housewife and teacher's aide, won the Charles City County clerk's post by a substantial margin.

William C. Ross Jr. was elected to the school committee in Pittsfield, Mass., and James H. Wynn to the regional school committee in North Adams, Mass. They were both the first Negroes elected to public office in those towns.

In Boston where the race issue was an often unspoken factor in the mayor's race, Thomas Atkins, 28, a Harvard law school student, was elected to the City Council—the first Negro to sit on that body in modern memory.

Municipal Court Judge William Parker was re-elected in Waterloo, Iowa, the site of racial disturbances last summer.

In consolidated Jacksonville, Fla., elections, three of four Negro candidates won Democratic nominations over whites.

In addition to Clark, six Negroes were elected to county offices in Mississippi, increasing to 24 the number of Negro office holders in that state.

Of the six, two won posts as county supervisors, two as constables and two a justice of the peace.

Draft Protesters Face Call Ups

WASHINGTON (AP)—College students who have turned in their draft cards to Selective Service offices as a protest gesture against the Vietnam war face the prospect of immediate call-ups.

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, draft director, has told local Selective Service boards that college deferments should be denied men who refuse to carry their classification cards or who physically interfere with service services recruiting officers visiting college campuses.

Hershey said registrants with out their cards should be reclassified as available for service, with their names advanced to the top of the draft lists.

Voters Approve 5 School Levies

Five school levies met with voters' approval at the polls Tuesday throughout the city and county.

Passage of the levies, according to school officials, places the public schools' local tax incomes above the state imposed minimum requirements.

Educators from all four districts publicly expressed their gratitude to the voters for supplying the necessary funds for operation of the schools.

A great deal of concern was shown by residents during the evening by phone inquiries at The Herald offices.

THE 2.8 mill levy for Circleville School District passed by a vote of 2,235 to 1,451. It was defeated in only five precincts. The levy will be on the tax duplicate for ten years.

DeLong, Elsea, Brehmer Elected to School Board

Dale DeLong, Robert L. Brehmer Jr. and Tom Elsea were elected to the Circleville School Board yesterday. Brehmer is the lone incumbent in the trio.

Defeated candidates were E. G. Grigg a veteran member of the board, and William Thornton, making his first bid for a board seat.

DeLong received 2,420 votes in the election, nearly 500 more than Brehmer, who is presently serving as president of the board. Brehmer's unofficial count is 1,942.

Elsea edged Thornton by just 13 votes for the third seat to be filled on the board. The son of Robert Elsea, long-time board member who did not seek reelection, he had 1,862 votes. Thornton had 1,849. Grigg had 1,769 votes.

OTHER members of the board are Richard Bowers and Rosemary Mader.

National Elections At Glance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Here's a summary of results from some of Tuesday's most important elections:

Mayor—Democrat Carl B. Stokes defeated Republican Seth C. Taft in Cleveland to become the first Negro elected mayor of a major U.S. city; Democrat Richard G. Kinsella; Mayor Richard C. Lee won an eighth consecutive term in New Haven, Conn.; Democrat Thomas J. D'Alesandro III, son of a former three-term Baltimore mayor, won the city's top post by a 5-1 margin.

Governors—Republican Louis B. Nunn defeated Democrat Henry Ward to give the GOP the Kentucky state house for the first time in 24 years; veteran U.S. Rep. John Bell Williams, a Democrat, won an easy victory over Republican Rubel Phillips in Mississippi.

Legislatures—Democrats retained firm control of the Virginia Legislature with small Republican gains while Democrat William Ferguson Reid of Richmond became the state's first Negro assemblyman elected since 1891; Republicans won control of New Jersey's Legislature; Democrats retained control of the Kentucky Legislature.

Humphrey Returns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey reported today to President Johnson, the National Security Council and some top leaders of Congress on his trip to South Vietnam and Southeast Asia.

Humphrey returned to Washington Tuesday night after a trip to South Vietnam, Malaysia and Indonesia.

Roundtown

THE NEW year will see some new faces in local elective offices as a result of Tuesday's general election.

Long-time Mayor Ben H. Gordon will turn over his office to newly-elected Richard L. Gerhardt. In addition to his own interpretation of the office, Gerhardt will preside as chairman of the Berger Hospital Board of Governors, serve as president of Pumpkin Show Inc., have the prerogative of appointing a new service director, safety director and public utilities manager.

Although the mayor has no vote in city council sessions, he does hold the power of veto among his other power and duties.

City council seats will be occupied by two new members. Dr. David Goldschmidt will replace Frank Barnhill as First Ward Councilman and Noble Barr will take the seat of Joe Bell, councilman-at-large, who will step up to the president's seat.

New faces will be seen on the Circleville Board of Education. Dale DeLong and Thomas Elsea will replace E. G. Grigg and Robert Elsea.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cleveland Democrat Carl B. Stokes has become the first Negro elected mayor of a major American city, but Republicans claimed a pattern of victory and an omen for 1968 today in off-year elections which gave the GOP Kentucky's governorship and New Jersey's legislature.

Another Negro Democrat, Richard G. Hatcher, was elected mayor of Gary, Ind., while Louise Day Hicks' backslung campaign was rejected at the Boston polls.

In Gary as in Cleveland, the mathematics of race was the crucial factor. And the issue of Negro-white balance in the public schools was a key question in Boston, where Secretary of State Kevin H. White was elected mayor in a nonpartisan run-off.

Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss saw in the election returns evidence "that the upsurge in Republican strength which began in 1966 is continuing."

Democratic Chairman John M. Bailey said he discerned no trend at all.

Democrats reclaimed the mayor's office in Baltimore, and held Philadelphia's City Hall despite internal discord and a stern GOP challenge.

On the GOP balance sheet, the Kentucky victory of Louie B. Nunn, rated something of an upset, put Republicans in charge in 25 of the 50 U.S. governor's offices. The states in the GOP column now represent 304 electoral votes, 34 more than the number needed to elect a president in 1968.

In Tuesday's only other gubernatorial race, Rep. John Bell Williams, a Democrat, predictably triumphed in a Mississippi landslide.

Last Precinct Decides Contest

Richard L. Gerhardt, a youthful Democrat, was the voters' favorite in Tuesday's election for the office of Circleville mayor.

The contest wasn't decided until the last precinct (1-G at Atwater School) reported in after 1 a. m. Up to that point Barnhill was in the lead by less than ten votes. Returns from 1-G came in giving Gerhardt 161 ballots and Barnhill 122, thus deciding the race in Gerhardt's favor.

As the returns came in, precinct-by-precinct, the lead would change from one candidate to the other.

THE victorious candidate is a Circleville native and a third generation attorney. His grandfather, the late Charles Gerhardt, practiced law here, as well as his father, the late George E. Gerhardt. Both served several terms as county prosecutor.

Young Gerhardt defeated W. Harold Clifton, current council president, and Everett (Tommy) Thompson for the Democratic nomination in May. He

Court Rejects Lawyer Hearing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court refused today to ask the Board of Commissioners on Grievances and Discipline to reconsider a recommendation for indefinite suspension from the practice of law for William J. Jacobs, Toledo attorney.

Jacobs, a nephew of entertainer Danny Thomas, was accused by the board of combining trust funds with his own funds in violation of canons of professional ethics.

The court set no date immediately for a hearing on the board's recommendation.

The Supreme Court affirmed 6-0 a $12,500 damage award to Goldie Cassidy, 813 Stanley St., Middletown, against Thomas Jack Glossip of Franklin for injuries received in a traffic accident Jan. 28, 1964, on Ohio 4 near Middletown.

will replace veteran Circleville Mayor Ben H. Gordon, also a Democrat.

Prior to establishing his law practice in Circleville, Gerhardt was an administrative aid to Robert E. Sweeney, former congressman-at-large.

He was a national delegate to the Young Democrats of America National Convention last year in New York. He had previously served as a delegate on the platform committee.

Gerhardt and his wife, Marie, are members of the First Methodist Church. He holds membership in the Circleville Jaycees, the Ohio State Bar Assn., Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity and is on the board of directors of Sigma Phi Epsilon Corp.

The successful candidate carried the majority of votes in nine of the city's 18 precincts. His opponent, Barnhill, carried eight precincts and one was tied.

FOLLOWING is a precinct-by-precinct rundown of the mayor's race yesterday.

- 1-A Gerhardt 64, Barnhill 121;
- 1-B Gerhardt 77, Barnhill 88;

Hospital Walkout Hits In Ironton

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—About 50 employees of the Lawrence County Hospital were absent today, apparently in a move to support their demands to be represented by the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees.

Hospital operations continued with the help of auxiliary personnel and Harold Roth, administrator, said, "All our patients are receiving normal care and the situation is under control."

The 50 employees are among 167 at the hospital employed in the dietary, housekeeping, and nurses aid services. Medical, nursing, and technical services were not affected.

Roth said the absent employees all reported they were "sick" and he said each would be required to show medical proof of illness when he returns to work.

The employees are members of Local 771 of the union which also represents 50 city workers although a collective bargaining election has not been held at the hospital.

Public hospitals are not bound by the National Labor Relations Act.

Stokes Wins Razor Thin Race for Cleveland Mayor

CLEVELAND (AP) — Carl B. Stokes, a product of the slums, became the first Negro Tuesday to be elected mayor of one of America's 10 largest cities.

Stokes, in all his battles up the social, economic and political ladders, never had to fight harder than he did to beat Republican Seth C. Taft for Cleveland's mayoral office.

His razor-thin edge of 2,501 votes—129,829 to 127,328—was in doubt almost to the end.

Taft, a grandson of a president and nephew of the late U.S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, grabbed a sizeable lead early and held it until Negro East Side votes began to come in.

Stokes lost no time after his victory to call for a united Cleveland. He asked for his opponent to join him in building a better city.

Taft responded. He asked his supporters, who had tried to make him the first Republican mayor of Cleveland in 24 years, to "forget words spoken in heat and to think now of things that can be done to make ours a great city."

Taft said he would wait until he saw the official tally before deciding whether to call for a recount. Two years ago when Stokes lost his independent race against Democratic Mayor Ralph S. Locher by 2,143 he got a recount before he conceded.

Stokes received heavy support from the Negro East Side. He came out of the white sections trailing but within striking range. He substantially increased his percentage of the white vote from the 17 per cent he received in the primary.

Stokes, 40 and a natty dresser with an easy humor, bucked his own Democratic party organization to defeat Locher in the Oct.

3 primary by 18,000 votes. This time he had the backing of his party, organized labor and Cleveland's two daily newspapers, the Plain Dealer and the Cleveland Press.

He and Taft sought to avoid the racial issue but it could not be ignored and one of the heaviest votes in Cleveland's history—257,153—turned out despite a day that began with subfreezing temperatures and driving snow.

Taft, running for his first political office, surprised even his opponent by the way he took to campaigning. He is a Republican in a city where all but 34,000 of its 336,000 registered voters are Democrats.

Taft made it clear he was just as liberal as Stokes. He took a Act and said he would be the mayor's authority to push equal employment opportunities for Negroes.

Fraud Charges Mark Gary Vote

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Negro Democrat Richard G. Hatcher's 1,495-vote victory in the race for mayor of Gary was assailed today by the defeated white Republican as fraudulent.

The loser, Joseph Radigan, charged that in two precincts "more votes were cast than were on the rolls."

The Lake County election board refused to certify Hatcher immediately as the winner because of the questioned votes in the two precincts where Hatcher won by heavy margins.

The election board includes John Krupa, county Democratic chairman who refused from the time Hatcher was nominated to support him. Board members said they were "in a quandary whether they may properly sign the official canvass" and would present the voting figures to federal Judge George N. Beaumont in nearby Hammond later today and seek his instructions.

Eight Villages Elect Officials

Officials for eight villages in Pickaway County were elected at the polls Tuesday.

Terms of office for mayor, clerk-treasurer and councilmen are four years.

Williamsport: C. Wilson Thomas, mayor; George Ann Puffenberger, clerk-treasurer; Earl C. Baker and Luther W. Anderson, councilmen; Joe Wright, John Picklesimer and Tom Duval tied for the two-year board of public affairs office; Norma Jean Drummond and Harry Keller Jr., board of public affairs officers for four years.

Ashville: Harold W. Hartley,

mayor of Hartford, Conn.—the home town of Democratic chairman Bailey.

Bliss pointed as well to New Jersey, where Republicans took firm command of a legislature now Democratic by a 2 to 1 margin. The state Democratic chairman said it appeared Republicans would have an edge of more than 3 to 1 in the Senate and nearly as much in the Assembly.

Stocks Stage Big Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rolled up big gains in a vigorous post election day rally early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

Gains outnumbered losses by about 9-2 on the Big Board.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 7.92 at 863.21, trimming its best gain which was notched up at the end of the first hour.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2.1 at 311.3 with industrials up 4.8, rail up 2.2 and utilities up 1.5.

RCA leaped to the top of the most-active list as a block of 9,400 shares was sold at 59, off 1 1/2. The stock erased the low soon after and posted a fractional gain.

U.S. Orders Dual Schools Dismantled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has decided that all Southern school districts will have to totally dismantle dual school systems for white and Negroes by the fall of 1969.

It is the first time officials of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare have set a hard date by which they expect complete compliance with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The act prohibits federal support of any programs in which racial discrimination is practiced.

Spokesmen for HEW's Office for Civil Rights said in response to a reporter's inquiry that the decision has evolved over the past few months.

The decision apparently gained impetus from a recent report by the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights criticizing HEW for achieving more desegregation sooner. The commission noted that some Negro children who began school after the Supreme Court outlawed separate but equal schools for Negroes in 1954 have gone all the way through school without having been in the same building with white students.

Referendums Get Mixed Reception

WASHINGTON (AP) — San Franciscans rejected a Vietnam withdrawal proposition and New Yorkers turned down a proposed new state constitution while numerous other cities and states voters also decided questions through referenda in Tuesday's elections.

Voters in San Francisco spurned by a wide margin an advisory referendum urging an immediate cease-fire and withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Vietnam.

The same question was posed to Cambridge, Mass., voters but results won't be known for about three weeks because of complications in the official balloting process in that city of more than 100,000 population.

New York voters defeated by a margin of more than 2 to 1 a proposed new state constitution which would have repealed a ban on public aid to church schools. They approved a $2.5 billion transportation bond issue, the biggest state bond issue in U. S. history.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a Protestant, endorsed the state constitution and campaigned vigorously for the bond issue.

Four referendum bond issues, with a total of $13 million involved, won approval in Maine. Most of the money is for education.

New Mexicans approved six constitutional amendments but rejected one that would have let that state join the other 49 in allowing absentee voting. Also turned down was a proposal to allow state loans to industry.

Ohio voters approved a reapportionment plan for the state legislature. Other plans had been rejected in 1965 and last May.

No License, OMVI Top Court Docket

Warren L. Reed, 30, of 1225 S. Court St., pleaded guilty in Municipal Court Tuesday to driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicants.

Judge Sterling Lamb fined Reed $150 plus costs, sentenced him to three days in jail and suspended his license for one year.

Lester Grooms, Route 2, Williamsport, pleaded guilty to operating a car without a driver's license, for which he was fined $150 plus costs by Judge Lamb. Fifty dollars of the fine was suspended.

Paul Anderson, 23, Williamsport, was fined $15 plus costs for driving a car without tail lights. Five dollars of the fine was suspended.

Jack Nelson Thompson, Route 2, Laurelville, forfeited a $19 bond set on charges of speeding 60 miles in a 50 mile zone. Seven out-of-county residents, from whom the court collected $180 in fines and bond forfeitures were also called before the court.

West Clermont School Tax OK'd

AMELIA, Ohio (AP) — The West Clermont School District's financial crisis is over again. School officials who had announced they had no money to keep classes for 8,000 pupils going after Friday, were jubilant today after voters approved a 17.9 mill levy by a margin of 5,098 to 2,118.

Some Incumbents Turned Out in State Board Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Election of a completely new 24-member state Board of Education Tuesday turned out some incumbents.

Mrs. Susan D. George of Canton defeated Robert Manchester II of Canton, first board president, and two other opponents to win the 16th Congressional District seat on the new board. The other losers were incumbent Kenyon D. Love of Canton and Chester H. Corbett of Magnolia.

Election of a brand new state board was decreed after Ohio created a 24th Congressional District and revamped others, shifting Manchester into the 16th District from the 19th.

The present board has 23 members elected for six-year terms in the old district with seven of those terms normally expiring this year, eight in 1969 and eight in 1971.

A new law ends all terms first board in 1953.

Board President Robert W. Walker, Adena banker in the 18th District, was unopposed for re-election. His term ends this year.

Eight other members were re-elected without opposition. They were:

4th District—Cecil M. Sims of Piqua.

5th—Wayne E. Shaffer of Bryan.

6th—Ward M. Miller of Portsmouth.

7th—John M. Scott of Xenia.

9th—Edward C. Ames of Toledo.

13th—Jan E. Wagner Jr. of Sandusky.

14th—Francis W. Spicer of Akron.

Fraud Charges Mark Gary Vote

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Negro Democrat Richard G. Hatcher's 1,495-vote victory in the race for mayor of Gary was assailed today by the defeated white Republican as fraudulent.

The loser, Joseph Radigan, charged that in two precincts "more voters voted than were on the rolls."

The Lake County election board refused to certify Hatcher immediately as the winner because of the questioned votes in the two precincts where Hatcher won top-heavy margins.

The election board includes John Krupa, county Democratic chairman who refused from the time Hatcher was nominated to support him. Board members said they were "in a quandary whether they may properly sign the official canvass" and would present the voting figures to federal Judge George N. Beaumont in nearby Hammond later today and seek his instructions.

Eight Villages Elect Officials

Officials for eight villages in Pickaway County were elected at the polls Tuesday.

Terms of office for mayor, clerk-treasurer and councilmen are four years.

Williamsport: C. Wilson Thomas, mayor; George Ann Puffinberger, clerk-treasurer; Earl C. Baker and Luther W. Anderson, councilmen; Joe Wright, John Picklesimer and Tom Duval tied for the two-year board of public affairs office; Norma Jean Drummond and Harry Keller Jr., board of public affairs officers for four years.

Ashville: Harold W. Hartley,

mayor of Hartford, Conn.—the home town of Democratic chairman Bailey.

Bliss pointed as well to New Jersey, where Republicans took firm command of a legislature now Democratic by a 2 to 1 margin. The state Democratic chairman said it appeared Republicans would have an edge of more than 3 to 1 in the Senate and nearly as much in the Assembly.

"The campaign in New Jersey was run on the national issue 'why wait until 68,' and the results are very significant," Bliss said.

Stocks Stage Big Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rolled up big gains in a vigorous post election day rally early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

Gains outnumbered losses by about 9-2 on the Big Board.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 7.92 at 863.21, trimming its best gain which was notched up at the end of the first hour.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 3.1 at 311.3 with industrials up 4.8, rail up 2.2 and utilities up 3.5.

RCA leaped to the top of the most-active list as a block of 90,400 shares was sold at 59, off 1 1/2. The stock erased the low soon after and posted a fractional gain.

U.S. Orders Dual Schools Dismantled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has decided that all Southern school districts will have to totally dismantle dual school systems for white and Negroes by the fall of 1969.

It is the first time officials of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare have set a hard date by which they expect complete compliance with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The act prohibits federal support of any programs in which racial discrimination is practiced.

Spokesmen for HEW's Office for Civil Rights said in response to a reporter's inquiry that the decision has evolved over the past few months.

The decision apparently gained impetus from a recent report by the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights criticizing HEW for achieving more desegregation sooner. The commission noted that some Negro children who began school after the Supreme Court outlawed separate but equal schools for Negroes in 1954 have gone all the way through school without having been in the same building with white students.

Referendums Get Mixed Reception

WASHINGTON (AP) — San Franciscans rejected a Vietnam withdrawal proposition and New Yorkers turned down a proposed new state constitution while numerous other cities and states voters also decided questions through referenda in Tuesday's elections.

Voters in San Francisco spurned by a wide margin an advisory referendum urging an immediate cease-fire and withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Vietnam.

The same question was posed to Cambridge, Mass., voters but results won't be known for about three weeks because of complications in the official ballot-counting process in that city of more than 100,000 population.

New York voters defeated by a margin of more than 2 to 1 a proposed new state constitution which would have repealed a ban on public aid to church schools. They approved a $2.5 billion transportation bond issue, the biggest state bond issue in U. S. history.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a Protestant, endorsed the state constitution and campaigned vigorously for the bond issue.

Four referendum bond issues, with a total of $13 billion involved, won approval in Maine. Most of the money is for education.

New Mexicans approved six constitutional amendments but rejected one that would have let that state join the other 49 in allowing absentee voting. Also turned down was a proposal to allow state loans to industry.

Ohio voters approved a reapportionment plan for the state legislature. Other plans had been rejected in 1965 and last May.

No License, OMVI Top Court Docket

Warren L. Reed, 30, of 1225 S. Court St., pleaded guilty in Municipal Court Tuesday to driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicants.

Judge Sterling Lamb fined Reed $150 plus costs, sentenced him to three days in jail and suspended his license for one year.

Lester Grooms, Route 2, Williamsport, pleaded guilty to operating a car without a driver's license, for which he was fined $150 plus costs by Judge Lamb. Fifty dollars of the fine was suspended.

Paul Anderson, 23, Williamsport, was fined $15 plus costs for driving a car without tail lights. Five dollars of the fine was suspended.

Jack Nelson Thompson, Route 2, Laurelville, forfeited a $19 bond set on charges of speeding 60 miles in a 50 mile zone. Seven out-of-county residents, from whom the court collected $180 in fines and bond forfeitures were also called before the court.

West Clermont School Tax OK'd

AMELIA, Ohio (AP) — The West Clermont School District's financial crisis is over again.

School officials who had announced they had no money to keep classes for 8,000 pupils going after Friday, were jubilant today after voters approved a 17.9 mill levy by a margin of 5,093 to 2,118.

Some Incumbents Turned Out in State Board Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Election of a completely new 24-member state Board of Education Tuesday turned out some incumbents.

Mrs. Susan D. George of Canton defeated Robert Manchester II of Canton, first board president, and two other opponents to win the 16th Congressional District seat on the new board. The other losers were incumbent Kenyon D. Love of Canton and Chester H. Corbett of Magnolia.

Election of a brand new state board was decreed after Ohio created a 24th Congressional District and revamped others, shifting Manchester into the 16th District from the 19th.

The present board has 23 members elected for six-year terms in the old district with seven of those terms normally expiring this year, eight in 1969 and eight in 1971.

A new law ends all terms first board in 1955.

Board President Robert W. Walker, Adena banker in the 18th District, was unopposed for re-election. His term ends this year.

Eight other members were re-elected without opposition. They were:

4th District—Cecil M. Sims of Piqua.

5th—Wayne E. Shaffer of Bryan.

6th—Ward M. Miller of Portsmouth.

7th—John M. Scott of Xenia.

8th — Edward C. Ames of Toledo.

13th—Jan E. Wagner Jr. of Sandusky.

14th—Francis W. Spicer of Akron.

17th—Lorin E. Bixler of New Concord.

Senators have begun to investigate senators, which is a departure from the policy adopted in the Bobby Baker inquiry and thus it can be accepted as progress of sorts.

The Senate Ethics Committee investigated Sen. Dodd of Connecticut and found his use of campaign funds censurable. Now it has completed its investigation of Sen. Long of Missouri.

In this case the committee clears Mr. Long of charges that he used his investigating subcommittee to try to keep James R. Hoffa out of prison. Chairman Stennis says the committee "found no facts" to show there was any relationship between Mr. Long's Senate activities and fees shared with him by one of Hoffa's attorneys.

This conclusion misses the point. Inability to establish wrongdoing does not mean that under the circumstances, fee-sharing was beyond reproach.

Unhappily, in Congress rules governing ethical standards are almost nonexistent and propriety is a matter of individual judgment. Long past, however, is the Baker case which demonstrated the need for a code of congressional conduct, but the Senate hasn't produced one. Nor has the House Ethics Committee, which was created for this purpose six months ago. In contrast, it took only four months to write the U.S. Constitution.

Meanwhile members of Congress have no guide but conscience, a restraint which, in some cases has proved to be of boundless elasticity.

Vietnam's Draft

Those "young, naïve youths riding through Saigon on red motor bikes" may have an army uniform in their future. Secretary of Defense McNamara was moved to complain last summer at seeing such Vietnamese youths apparently carefree while American men are going to South Vietnam in increasing numbers.

So one of the first acts of President Thieu will be to tighten up on Vietnamese draft regulations and practices.

The minimum age for the draft has been 20 and officials admit that two out of three 20-year-olds have been getting deferments. It has been common knowledge that rich Merchants and powerful politicians find it easy to purchase or arrange deferments for their sons and their friends.

It doesn't sit well with Americans to see their sons facing death in Vietnam while military-age Vietnamese shrink their duty. Nor is it good for the Vietnamese themselves in the long run.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — A boom of another kind, not an economic boom but one whose impact and mechanics may be even more readily understood, will burst upon our heads in the 1970s.

This is the sonic boom, a blast of sound waves created when aircraft fly faster than the speed of sound. It can shatter some glass, plaster and other property, but above all it can shatter nerves of man and animal.

It is also perhaps the greatest headache that lies ahead for builders and operators of the huge commercial jets that are expected to be soaring through the skies at speeds of more than 1,800 miles an hour.

British, French, Soviet and U.S. interests are now working on their models, all of which will be sleek comfortable and quiet within, but incredibly loud without.

As a result, mankind is presented now with another round in the endless contest with the products of his own technology. The contest is clearly defined: man demands speed in going from one place to another; he has an innate urge, often unsatisfied, to peace and quiet also. Will the noise be banned? Or will man be forced to listen?

The expert opinion now concludes that the loud plane will win. They feel there is an inevitability about it, for technology generally has won in the past, as witness the air, water and sound pollution that already exists.

For the present anyway, federal officials feel the public can adjust to the noise, citing as evidence man's adjustment to the introduction of other brand-new noises in the past.

"Individuals tend to accommodate themselves to an initially disturbing noise once it becomes a pattern of daily life, the Federal Aviation Agency says.

"There are noises today in cities and in small towns that are taken for granted which, if they were introduced as new noises, would cause disturbances for an initial period of time," the agency adds.

This conclusion provokes outraged rebuttals from sociologists, medical men, property owners and residents who live near airports, all of whom contend that although man may tolerate air noises, his adjustment to them is less than perfect.

The problem of shock waves also is causing great concern among some of the insurance fraternity, who feel they will be deluged with claims for damage, much of which they will be unable to prove or disprove as caused by the boom.

Proof of damage from sonic blasts has been fairly easy to establish so far because tests have been restricted to precise geographical areas.

During tests in St. Louis six years ago more than 1,600 claims were filed and more than 800 of them were declared valid. Claims also were allowed for damage in tests at Oklahoma City and Chicago.

What happens, however, when several huge supersonic commercial craft fly coast to coast, over city and farm, leaving behind a 50-mile swath boom? Legal and insurance chaos perhaps.

The alternative, now being considered and studied by engineers, is a modification of the craft that would reduce, but not eliminate, the boom. So far, nobody has been able to muffle the noise completely.

A FANCY AND HUGE dinner party was given in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria in honor of a visiting dignitary who, unfortunately, when called upon to speak pulled a thick manuscript out of his pocket and began to read it in a dull and interminable monotone.

The M.C. could do nothing about guests at the rear tables who began sneaking through the exits, but he was really embarrassed to discover that an important guest on the dias, only two chairs down from the speaker, had fallen sound asleep. He reached over behind the speaker and hit the sleeper soundly on the head with his gavel—not once but twice. The second blow caused the sleeper to jerk his head up, and survey the scene in obvious confusion. Then he realized where he was, heard the unsuspecting speaker droning on and pleaded in a voice that could be heard ten rows back, "Hit me again, I beg you. I can still hear him!"

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is there any truth that elderly people are better able to survive a coronary heart attack than younger people?

It is strange, but true, that people past the age of sixty seem to be able to survive an attack of coronary thrombosis better than a man of 35. This is true if the attack is of the same severity. Many explanations for this have been given. Some of them are valid while others are purely speculative.

The arteries that bring blood to the heart muscle itself are the coronaries, so named because their distribution resembles a crown. It is believed by some that, as one gets older, tiny additional arteries sprout from the main blood vessel and bring additional oxygen to the heart. This is called collateral circulation.

In the young, this fine network of additional blood vessels have had little or no time to develop. The result is that when a large coronary artery is closed by a clot, or thrombus, the damage it does in the young is particularly severe.

In the elderly, this type of compensatory circulation may have been developing for a long time and keeps the heart muscles supplied with blood and oxygen even when the main coronary has slowly been closing.

One of the modern miracles of surgery is the attempt to implant in the heart muscle a new artery in order to keep the heart pumping when the coronary artery is known to be blocked off. It will not be long before such surgery becomes more and more successful.

Can syphilis show up in later years without having caused symptoms at the time the disease was contracted?

There probably is no more despairing realization than the discovery of symptoms of syphilis that had been unsuspected. The sore that occurs on the genitals or the lips unfortunately disappears rather rapidly, leaving one completely unaware that they harbor this dreadful disease.

The disease of syphilis is the scourge of mankind and is now in almost an epidemic form in adolescents and young adults. A test for syphilis must be done and repeated in anyone who vaguely suspects exposure to infection. This disease can resemble almost every other known disease of man.

Any organ of the body can be damaged in the third stage of syphilis. The brain, particularly, can be affected, causing mental disorders and paresis.

Locomotor ataxia is another late complication of untreated syphilis. Aneurysm of the aorta, another late complication, can be compared to a weak spot on the inner tube of a tire.

The aorta, being the largest blood vessel in the body, leads off from the heart and can suddenly "blow out" and cause immediate death. Syphilis in the late stages can cause changes of the skin, liver and spleen and, when recognized so late, responds poorly to treatment.

Early syphilis in the first and second stages responds remarkably well to antibiotics. The third stage is almost never affected by antibiotics because the changes in the organs have already been fixed. Every general examination should include a Wasserman Test or some modification of it.

Good equipment and a physical examination is a "must" before an athletic program starts.

Man Indicted
In Holdup Slaying

WEIRTON, W. Va. (AP) — Three indictments have been returned against Charles Ravnell, 32, Campbell, Ohio, in connection with the robbery-slaying of a cafe owner here.

The indictments—murder, attempted armed robbery and felonious assault—were handed down Monday by a grand jury. Ravnell was being held in Brooke County jail in lieu of $95,000 bond.

The charges stem from the Sept. 27 death of grill owner Charles Nagy. He was shot to death after he and his wife tried to run away from two gunmen who accosted them on a street.

Nagy was carrying a large amount of money. Ravnell was captured by police several blocks from where Nagy was shot. The other man has not been apprehended.

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's been like watching a Russian bear eat an electric light bulb.

Surprise, convulsions, indigestion, internal bleeding, thrashing around half out of mind and digestion restored have all been part of the process since the bolsheviks took over the Russian revolution 50 years ago today.

Surprise — The Bolsheviki were caught flatfooted, unprepared for the takeover when the revolution began. They got themselves together, grabbed their chance, and communism has been in charge since.

Convulsion—The beginning was dreadful: The struggle with the other factions which were split and indecisive; civil war; and economic collapse.

Indigestion—Lenin and his Bolsheviki started out as the apostles of Karl Marx. But they twisted Marxism to suit their need. And Lenin even partly restored capitalism for a while.

Internal bleeding—From the beginning there was a blood bath. It became a hemorrhage in the 1930s with Stalin's purges and executions, his device for eliminating rivals, real or imaginary.

Half out of mind—Stalin was a mental case. One of the most vicious in history, who reigned through terror for 29 years from the time Lenin died in 1924 until his own death in 1953.

But while terror was his weapon, power was his language. Under him a primitive nation became a world power, with all that meant. For only a brief moment the United States had a nuclear monopoly. Stalin quickly broke it.

Digestion restored—With Stalin's death, some sanity was restored, restrictions were eased, and the Soviet Union began to look a little more like a civilized society, starting with Nikita Khrushchev, later dumped, in the 1950s.

Uruguay's President, Gen. Oscar Gestido, took leave of absence from his office in order to fight a duel with Uruguayan senator Amilcar Vasconcellos. Well, that's one way of showing who's boss.

Vasconcellos was also challenged to a duel by Hector Luis, Uruguay's foreign minister. Now, that's what we call double trouble!

A knight in full armor often tipped the scale at more than 400 pounds, we read. No wonder those boys were always throwing their weight around!

Prize feature of Toronto's Royal Agriculture Winter Fair was scheduled to be a life-size statue of Prince Philip sculpted from 1,000 pounds of butter. That, in football parlance, would be a true spread formation.

All that butter, put to its originally intended use, could be the makings of a right royal repast!

Thirty billion billion electrons weigh but one ounce — Factographs. That's an awfully big answer to a very small question.

During the administration of President James Monroe the cost of lighting the White House with candles amounted up to $100 a night. Gosh, in these days they must have had money to burn!

Some social historians predict that after the miniskirt, skirts may disappear altogether.

After all this agony the most obvious question, one which must fill every other nation with apprehension, is: What will happen inside the Soviet Union and what will it do in these next 50 years?

No one in his right mind will try to predict it. Through their whole history the Russian people have known nothing but submission to autocracies, some more fierce and bloody than others.

At the moment power is divided among the leaders but nevertheless centered in them. Internal struggles for power among them could resurrect the nightmares of the past 50 years.

The people are asserting themselves a little more, although feebly. Bit by bit they may get more of the freedom they want. Eventually, if the Soviet Union follows the road of the great revolutions of modern times, there will be democracy.

The most civilizing and restraining force in Soviet history in recent times is fear—fear of nuclear war with the United States which reciprocates the same fear.

In time the Soviet Union may surpass the United States as the world's No. 1 industrial power—it's No. 2 now—with increasing prosperity for its people. But the Soviet Union has also suffered a shattering defeat: For most of the past 50 years it not only dominated world communism but the world's thinking about it.

That's gone. Gigantic Red China is its rival and apparently its enemy and is fast on its way to becoming a great nuclear power. When that happens the future of the Soviet Union and of mankind may depend on the answer to this question:

Will it manage to team up with the Red Chinese against the rest of the world or, out of fear of China, will it cozy up to the United States and the West in search of allies against Red China?

LOC NINH from the air doesn't look very warlike, but it's the site of the most lopsided victory over the Reds so far. In a week of attacks they suffered nearly 2,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed, to fewer than 50 defenders.

Ike swept the nation . . . Lausche was lone Democrat in GOP landslide for an unprecedented fourth term.

A city manager administration under a charter form of government was defeated by Circleville voters at the polls.

12,290 persons flocked to the polls and established a new vote record.

Two bond issues failed to pass — a 1.3 mill levy proposed to finance new bridge construction projects in four Pickaway County Townships. A city issue for sewer system improvements did not gain the necessary percent for approval. Six school levies rode to victory.

William Ammer scored a narrow victory over incumbent Guy Cline for the post of County Prosecuting Attorney.

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff scored a comfortable victory over Willison H. Leist and was reelected to begin his 23rd year at that post.

James H. Mowery, for many years superintendent of the Pickaway County Home, was elected to County Clerk of Courts office, defeating Lawrence Cupp. Mowery succeeded A. L. (Dick) Wilder who did not seek reelection.

Lyman Penn, Republican, and incumbent Democrat William J. Goode were winners in a close county race for two seats on the County Commissioners Panel.

Ed Wallace was reelected to serve his second term in the Ohio House of Representatives over Republican Carl Bennett.

Pickaway County candidates opposed for office in the election drew large complimentary votes. They were Judge William D. Radcliff of Common Pleas Court; Florence Campbell county recorder; Robert Colville, county treasurer; Henry T. McCrady, county engineer and Dr. Ray Carroll who was to begin his first term as county coroner.

Uruguay's President, Gen. Oscar Gestido, took leave of absence from his office in order to fight a duel with Uruguayan senator Amilcar Vasconcellos. Well, that's one way of showing who's boss.

Vasconcellos was also challenged to a duel by Hector Luis, Uruguay's foreign minister. Now, that's what we call double trouble!

A knight in full armor often tipped the scale at more than 400 pounds, we read. No wonder those boys were always throwing their weight around!

Prize feature of Toronto's Royal Agriculture Winter Fair was scheduled to be a life-size statue of Prince Philip sculpted from 1,000 pounds of butter. That, in football parlance, would be a true spread formation.

All that butter, put to its originally intended use, could be the makings of a right royal repast!

Thirty billion billion electrons weigh but one ounce — Factographs. That's an awfully big answer to a very small question.

During the administration of President James Monroe the cost of lighting the White House with candles amounted up to $100 a night. Gosh, in these days they must have had money to burn!

Some social historians predict that after the miniskirt, skirts may disappear altogether.

After all this agony the most obvious question, one which must fill every other nation with apprehension, is: What will happen inside the Soviet Union and what will it do in these next 50 years?

No one in his right mind will try to predict it. Through their whole history the Russian people have known nothing but submission to autocracies, some more fierce and bloody than others.

At the moment power is divided among the leaders but nevertheless centered in them. Internal struggles for power among them could resurrect the nightmares of the past 50 years.

The people are asserting themselves a little more, although feebly. Bit by bit they may get more of the freedom they want. Eventually, if the Soviet Union follows the road of the great revolutions of modern times, there will be democracy.

The most civilizing and restraining force in Soviet history in recent times is fear—fear of nuclear war with the United States which reciprocates the same fear.

In time the Soviet Union may surpass the United States as the world's No. 1 industrial power—it's No. 2 now—with increasing prosperity for its people. But the Soviet Union has also suffered a shattering defeat: For most of the past 50 years it not only dominated world communism but the world's thinking about it.

That's gone. Gigantic Red China is its rival and apparently its enemy and is fast on its way to becoming a great nuclear power. When that happens the future of the Soviet Union and of mankind may depend on the answer to this question:

Will it manage to team up with the Red Chinese against the rest of the world or, out of fear of China, will it cozy up to the United States and the West in search of allies against Red China?

LOC NINH from the air doesn't look very warlike, but it's the site of the most lopsided victory over the Reds so far. In a week of attacks they suffered nearly 2,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed, to fewer than 50 defenders.

ELECTION NOV. 1952
15 YEARS AGO

Ike swept the nation . . . Lausche was lone Democrat in GOP landslide for an unprecedented fourth term.

A city manager administration under a charter form of government was defeated by Circleville voters at the polls.

12,280 persons flocked to the polls and established a new vote record.

Two bond issues failed to pass — a 1.3 mill levy proposed to finance new bridge construction projects in four Pickaway County Townships. A city issue for sewer system improvements did not gain the necessary percent for approval. Six school levies rode to victory.

William Ammer scored a narrow victory over incumbent Guy Cline for the post of County Prosecuting Attorney.

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff scored a comfortable victory over Willison H. Leist and was reelected to begin his 23rd year at that post.

James H. Mowery, for many years superintendent of the Pickaway County Home, was elected to County Clerk of Courts office, defeating Lawrence Cupp. Mowery succeeded A. L. (Dick) Wilder who did not seek reelection.

Lyman Penn, Republican, and incumbent Democrat William J. Goode were winners in a close county race for two seats on the County Commissioners Panel.

Ed Wallace was reelected to serve his second term in the Ohio House of Representatives over Republican Carl Bennett.

Pickaway County candidates unopposed for office in the election drew large complimentary votes. They were Judge William D. Radcliff of Common Pleas Court; Florence Campbell country recorder; Robert Colville, county treasurer; Henry T. McCrady, county engineer and Dr. Ray Carroll who was to begin his first term as county coroner.

Mt. Pleasant Women's Unit Session Held

Membes of Mt. Pleasant WSCS met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. John Dearth with 16 members and two guets, Mrs. Marguerite Gribby and Mrs. Jean Streevey, present. Mrs. Robert Rozelle was assisting hostess.

Mrs. Oscar Atwood, president, opened the meeting. A devotion-al service led by Mrs. Marion Mowery, who used as her sub-ject "Feed My Sheep," follow-ed with prayer, singing of hymns and responsive reading. Scripture reading was present-ed by Mrs. Forrest Hopkins and readings were given by Mrs. Mowery.

During the business session members presented gifts for the Columbus State Hospital and the Veterans Hospital in Chilli-cothe.

A Thanksgiving offering was made by each member. The group voted to send a self-denial offering to the Methodist Board of Missions. Plans were made to send Christmas boxes to boys in service. Thank-you notes were read from Elizabeth Bennett, district treasurer; Joe Justice and Mr. and Mrs. John Moss Jr.

Mrs. Gribby reported on her visit to China, Japan and India. She showed many items she had brought from these coun-tries.

The monthly auction was held. Auction articles were furnished by Mrs. John Dearth.

The Christmas meeting will be 6:30 p.m., Dec. 5, at the church with a carry-in dinner. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostess.

Pythian Sisters Plan Reception

Final plans for a reception to be held Sunday in honor of Garnet Reichelderfer, the newly elected grand out guard, were made during the recent meet-ing of Pythian Sisters in the K of P Lodge Hall.

Paula K. Strawser, most ex-celent chief, conducted the busi-ness session. Frances Evans, Dorothy McClelland, Nannie Davis, Caniz Carman, Katherine Mead, Elma Rains and Mary Radcliffe were named as the reception committee. Virginia Strawser, Clarissa Talbut, Car-olyn Young, Geneva Woodward and Kathryn Francis will be in charge of the food, and Ruth Griest, Sarah Winner and Flor-ence Jury will be the decorat-ing committee.

A contribution was given to the Christmas and entertain-ment committee of the Knights of Pythias Home in Springfield. Announcement was made of the district 2 convention Thurs-day at the Huntington National Bank meeting room in Canal Winchester. Registration will be 1 p.m. with the afternoon ses-sion 3:30 p.m. and the evening session at 7:30 p.m.

Dinner will be served at 5:30 p.m. in the EUB Church. Reser-vations are to be made with Mary Bigerton, 465 W. Warter-loo St. Canal Winchester 43110.

The next regular meeting will be Nov. 16, with Thanksgiving observed. This will be "Ingath-ering Night" and members are requested to bring or send com-mercially canned food to be sent to the Pythian Home at Medina for Thanksgiving.

A social hour followed with refreshments served to the 34 members present by: Ella Over-ly, Harry and Paula Strawser, Ruth Griest, Laura Rector and Bertha Brown.

Judge Rejects Trial for Boy

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A 15-year-old boy charged with shoot-ing his father to death was sent to the Ohio Youth Commission's custody Tuesday by a judge who decided against trying the youth as an adult.

Judge Russell Thomas passed the sentence on William Stropo-li, who was charged with the shotgun slaying of his father, Joseph, 40, on Oct. 16 at their home.

The boy could be confined by the Youth Commission until he is 21 and must be held a minimum of five months.

If you're painting with rollers, here's the way to store them prop-erly. Stand them on end in empty milk cartons that you've washed clean. If the roller lies on its side, its nap may be flattened.

The very popular bamboo matchstick curtains need refin-ishng from time to time. The best way is to scrub the surfaces with a soft bristled brush dipped in soapy water. Then rinse with clean water and dry thoroughly. Brush on white (clear) shellac that you've thinned with three or four times its volume of alcohol.

Teen-age anguish over acne can be soothed with proper face-washing. According to The Lind-say Company, manufacturer of the automatic home water softener, haphazard face-washing causes much of the problem. Your teen-ager should scrub his com-plexion thoroughly at least twice a day. This means massag-ing two applications of warm soap suds into the pores, rinsing well each time with warm soft water, then splashing on cold soft water for a refreshing fin-ish. Soft water itself keeps the pores clean when this method is used.

The program will be under the direction of the civic participation committee, with Etha Mae Wolford and Geneva Ullman as chairmen, assisted by Helen Greenlee, Martha Blue and Leona Crites.

Myers Circle Plans Session

Myers Circle of First Methodist Church will meet 9:30 a.m. Thursday in the church parlor. Mrs. Jerry Wolford will be in charge of the program.

When you make garlic bread, you may wrap the loaf in foil—but be sure to leave the foil open at the top so the bread will be crusty.

BATHTUB TOPPLE — Mrs. George Romney (above) underwent surgery in Royal Oak, Mich., for a broken shoulder suffered in a bathtub fall in the Ronneys' Bloomfield Hills home.

Shower Honors Bride-elect Joan McFarland

Miss Joan L. McFarland, Route 3, bride-elect of Charles A. Savage, was honored with a personal shower recently in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Selby, Route 3.

Games were played and winners gave their prizes to the bride-to-be.

Gifts were placed under an umbrella with pink and white streamers and an arrangement of mums centered the table.

The guest list included: Mrs. Clark McFarland, Mrs. Harold Gilmore, Mrs. Paul Thompson, Miss Janelle Thompson, and Miss Linda Savage, all of Circleville, and Mrs. J. Russell McFarland, New Holland. Mrs. Selby was assisted by her daughter, Cindy.

Guild 45 Holds Party

Berger Hospital Guild 45 held a products party recently in the guild room at Berger Hospital.

Guests present were: Nancy McDonald, Betty Clay, Norene Foreman, Alveta Egbert, Mary Ellen Forquer, Betty Combs, Lu Ann Boone, Barb Davis, Leona Easterday, Margaret Koch, Faye Taylor, Jerry Prince, Mona Jeffries, Susie Hollar, Linda Valentine, Jean O'Hara, Brenda Forrest, Betty Dera, Nancy Valentine, Carolyn Peters, Jean Doering, Sue Pirnstill, Rosemary Dunkel, Jean Hawkes, Sue Phillips and Ethel Wolford.

Prizes were awarded and a dessert smorgasbord was served by the members: Mabel Owens, Jennie Russell, Sharon Rose, Verna O'Hara, Linda Russell, Pat Pontius, Lou Stewart, Connie McGlone, Linda Stevenson and Rosemary Hansen.

The next meeting of the group will be 7:30 p.m. Dec. 7, in the home of Mrs. Jan Kadow, 1184 Atwater Ave. The project will be styrofoam Christmas ornaments. Mrs. Madlyn Buhr and Mrs. Karen Schieman will provide the refreshments.

Cut soft rolls into slices that are about 1 1/2 inches thick. Spread the cut surfaces generously with butter and toast under the broiler. These tidbits are delicious with soup or salad.

Twig 1 To Meet

Twig 1 of the Mound St. Home and Hospital will meet 8 p.m. Friday in the home of Mrs. Robin Jones, 128 N. Pickaway St.

Diane Ratcliff Feted with Birthday Party

A party honoring Miss Diane Ratcliff on her 19th birthday was given in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Ratcliff. Using a Halloween theme, the house was decorated in orange and black. The guests participated in a number of contests. Refreshments were served by the honored guest's mother and sister.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ratcliff, Gary, Jerry and Carolyn; Mr. and Mrs. Don Ratcliff, Bobby, Kathy, Donnie and Chris; Mrs. Irma Peters, Sherry, Jim, John and Mark; Gene Wynkoop, Mr. and Mrs. David Valentine, Dwayne, and Tannis; Miss Mary Ellen Carter, Leewood Rhymer, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Ratcliff, Monta Kay and Steve.

Sending gifts but unable to attend were Mrs. Marilyn Schooley and Scot, and Mr. and Mrs. Chancy Ratcliff.

Donna Wickline Is Bride of W. M. Burmaster

The Presbyterian Church of Sparta N.C. was the scene of the ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Donna Jean Wickline daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wickline, 337 Midland Road Chillicothe, and Wayne Mathew Burmaster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Burmaster, 280 Sherwood Drive, Circleville.

The Rev. John W. McQueen officiated at the 4 p.m. service, Sept. 23.

The bride is a graduate of Chillicothe High School and was formerly employed by the Chillicothe Gazette.

Mr. Burmaster is a graduate of Circleville High School and is employed by the Columbia Gas Co. of Columbus.

The couple is now residing at 2597 Cushing Drive, Columbus.

Newcomers Club Crafts Group Meeting Held

The arts and crafts group of Newcomers Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Marilyn Ganley, 611 Plaza Drive. This month's project was making paper mache angels.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sharon Middaugh and Mrs. Karen Schieman to the ten members present.

The next meeting of the group will be 7:30 p.m. Dec. 7, in the home of Mrs. Jan Kadow, 1184 Atwater Ave. The project will be styrofoam Christmas ornaments. Mrs. Madlyn Buhr and Mrs. Karen Schieman will provide the refreshments.

Cut soft rolls into slices that are about 1 1/2 inches thick. Spread the cut surfaces generously with butter and toast under the broiler. These tidbits are delicious with soup or salad.

Judge Rejects Trial for Boy

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A 15-year-old boy charged with shooting his father to death was sent to the Ohio Youth Commission's custody Tuesday by a judge who decided against trying the youth as an adult.

Judge Russell Thomas passed the sentence on William Stropoli, who was charged with the shotgun slaying of his father, Joseph, 40, on Oct. 16 at their home.

The boy could be confined by the Youth Commission until he is 21 and must be held a minimum of five months.

If you're painting with rollers, here's the way to store them properly. Stand them on end in empty milk cartons that you've washed clean. If the rollers lie on its side, its nap may be flattened.

The very popular bamboo matchstick curtains need refinishing from time to time. The best way is to scrub the surfaces with a soft bristled brush dipped in soapy water. Then rinse with clean water and dry thoroughly. Brush on white (clear) shellac that you've thinned with three or four times its volume of alcohol.

Teen-age anguish over acne can be soothed with proper face-washing. According to The Lindsay Company, manufacturer of the automatic home water softener, haphazard face-washing causes much of the problem. Your teen-ager should scrub his complexion thoroughly at least twice a day. This means massaging two applications of warm soap suds into the pores, rinsing well each time with warm soft water, then splashing on cold soft water for a refreshing finish. Soft water itself keeps the pores clean when this method is used.

Looking for plants to grow in a sunny, dry, poor-soil spot in your garden? A few plants thrive under these conditions. They're alyssum, verbenas, moss rose, and four o'clocks. Try some and watch them grow there!

Gum glue used on price tags for utensils is often the Dickens to remove. Try baby oil to take it off. If you cover the spot with oil, the adhesive liquifies and can be wiped off.

Women May Take Tolls On Turnpike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The hand that rocks the cradle may soon be taking tolls on the Ohio Turnpike.

This develops from a letter by a woman reader to the Akron Beacon-Journal recently, saying:

"Women are employed as toll-takers on the Pennsylvania turnpike," and asking: "why not in Ohio?"

The reply, from a commission spokesman, published in the Beacon-Journal 10 days ago, answered in effect:

"No reason at all."

Since then, the commission reported at its meeting Tuesday, more than 100 letters from women have been received at its personnel office in Berea, inquiring about jobs.

The pay: $490 a month, or for part-time, $254 an hour.

The commission said that women qualifying probably could be hired part-time to start, then worked into full-time jobs as vacancies occur.

Fidel Castro's Problems Rise

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Fidel Castro has a doughy problem rising before him: Cuba's bakeries are turning out low-quality bread. Havana radio said new inspection program will be started and employees will be taught the "technology of the bread" and maintenance of equipment.

Toned Down

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A young evangelist is under court orders to tone down the volume of his message. Municipal Court Judge Joseph A. Luebbers convicted Gary Epperly, 29, of making unnecessary noise and placed him on three months' probation. He told Epperly either to reduce the volume of his loud-speaker truck or stop preaching in a busy market area.

Even De Gaulle's Backers Unable To Predict Moves

By HARVEY HUDSON
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP)—Mind reading and explaining are twin political obligations for the followers of President Charles de Gaulle. It is not always easy, and sometimes downright embarrassing. Only a restricted few of his closest confidants can claim to know what De Gaulle really wants, what he is trying to do, where he would lead France and the world. Even those few can never be sure they are right. De Gaulle drops copious hints of his intentions, but often uses fuzzy language that leaves room for different interpretations. Former Premier Michel Debe was still promising that France intended to stay in Algeria long after De Gaulle had decided—on the basis of evidence available today—to get out.

That doesn't stop Gaullists from making educated guesses about the general's aims. One of them, Rene Capitant, has now come out with a succinct outline of Gaullist global strategy. De Gaulle has supplied the individual building blocks, but Capitant has fitted them together to make a clearer over-all design than De Gaulle has ever sketched.

Writing in the Gaullist weekly Notre Republique—Our Republic—Capitant said: "The world of tomorrow will have three poles: in the West, the Anglo-Saxon world; in the East, China; in the center, Europe from the Atlantic to the Urals.

"There, defined with a singular force, are the essential elements of the European problem.

"On one side are the partisans of a little Europe, historically linked to the twin poles (Russia and the United States) of 1947. Their aim is to tie as tightly as possible Western Europe to America. This was only half of Europe, of a Europe divided and torn apart as Poland was for a long time.

"The Gaullist vision of a big Europe is much different: It is of a Europe that is reconciled, reunified, finding again with its historical frontiers its essential structure of nations recovering their independence but henceforth resolved to organize their cooperation on a basis of equality.

"In such a perspective, national independence is the condition for European reunification: The independence of the nations of Western Europe from Washington; the independence of the nations of central Europe from Moscow; without in any way questioning the fact that Russia belongs to Europe. Because Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev are European and it would be a new mutilation of Europe to stop at Brest-Litovsk."

Dear Abby: Silence of Theft Also a Crime

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am going to write this quickly and mail it, so I won't have a chance to reconsider and close my eyes to a wrong.

My son recently told me about some youngsters in our neighborhood who steal bikes, remove the parts, rebuild and sell both rebuilt bikes and extra parts. I asked him how these youngsters managed to get away with it without their parents knowing about it, and he says the kids tell their parents that the bike belongs to another boy, and they bought the spare parts with their allowances.

I am appalled at the whole thing. I can't expect my boy to reveal the names of these boys, and my husband would think it unseemly if I were to bring this to the attention of the authorities.

You are the only way I have of warning parents who unknowingly may be allowing their children to continue this practice.

I do not condone my own child's acceptance of this behavior and have asked him to avoid this group of friends until they, too, become aware of their unacceptable behavior and stop it.

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: A boy who is old enough to "rebuild" a bike, is old enough to know he is breaking the law. While your son may not be guilty of stealing, he is guilty of another "crime." (Knowing of thievery and keeping quiet.) I do not approve of friends informing on one another, but a real "friend" would do all in his power to set his companions straight.

I hope the parents of the guilty boys see this, and check out the stories their sons tell about "buying" spare parts, and repairing another boy's bike. And if they discover that their sons have stolen bikes, they should insist they are returned to their rightful owners. Otherwise they should report their own sons to the authorities. Stealing is stealing. And the successful petty thief goes on to bigger things.

DEAR ABBY: You let me down when you wrote in your column that you thought it was all right for a married man to go to a "stag" party. Abby, my husband thinks your word is holy, and when he read that he really shined it under my nose.

Surely you are aware of what goes on at stags? They always have girls doing strip-tease dances and even movies for men only that are so bad your husband won't even tell you what they were about.

MARGOT

DEAR MARGOT: Sorry about that. My definition of "stag" is simply a social engagement for men only.

DEAR ABBY: I couldn't believe my eyes when I saw where you said it was O. K. for a married man to go to a stag. Don't you know they always have naked women there?

I always tell my husband when he goes out with the boys, if he wants to see a naked lady he should come home.

DEAR CONCERNED: A boy who is old enough to "rebuild" a bike, is old enough to know he is breaking the law. While your son may not be guilty of stealing, he is guilty of another "crime." (Knowing of thievery and keeping quiet.) I do not approve of friends informing on one another, but a real "friend" would do all in his power to set his companions straight.

I hope the parents of the guilty boys see this, and check out the stories their sons tell about "buying" spare parts, and repairing another boy's bike. And if they discover that their sons have stolen bikes, they should insist they are returned.

Father and Son Held in Murder

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A father and son have been bound over to the Franklin County Grand Jury on bonds of $15,000 each in connection with a fatal stabbing during a street fight. Mack Giles, 34, was the victim of the stabbing which resulted originally in the identification of a 15-year-old youth as the assailant.

The charges against the youth were dropped at a hearing in Juvenile Court and subsequently second degree murder charges were filed against his father, Estil Kimbler, 54, and his brother, Eugene, 18.

to their rightful owners. Otherwise they should report their own sons to the authorities. Stealing is stealing. And the successful petty thief goes on to bigger things.

DEAR ABBY: You let me down when you wrote in your column that you thought it was all right for a married man to go to a "stag" party. Abby, my husband thinks your word is holy, and when he read that he really shoved it under my nose.

Surely you are aware of what goes on at stag parties. They always have girls doing strip-tease dances and even movies for men only that are so bad your husband won't even tell you what they were about.

MARGOT
DEAR MARGOT: Sorry about that. My definition of "stag" is simply a social engagement for men only.

DEAR ABBY: I couldn't believe my eyes when I saw where you said it was O. K. for a married man to go to a stag. Don't you know they always have naked women there?

I always tell my husband when he goes out with the boys, if he wants to see a naked lady he should come home.

San Franciscans Reject Proposal On Vietnam War

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco voters soundly rejected Tuesday a peace proposition calling for an immediate cease-fire and U.S. withdrawal in the Vietnam war.

The final count from all 1,341 precincts gave 132,406 votes against cease-fire and U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam and 76,632 in favor.

Joseph Alioto, Democratic attorney elected as mayor in the nonpartisan municipal election, declared, however, he did not see the peace proposition result as a victory for Vietnam war hawks.

"Proposition P was defeated because it called for unconditional surrender for the United States," Alioto said.

The peace initiative, placed on the ballot only after successful appeal to the State Supreme

School Boards Fill Posts

All three local school districts in Pickaway County elected school board members in Tuesday's election.

There were contests in Teays Valley and Westfall Districts while Logan Elm candidates were unopposed. Also, two candidates for the County Board of Education were unopposed.

The three men elected to the Teays Valley Board were Harold W. Peters, 1603 votes; Everett R. Beers, 1,472 votes; William Winter, 1,216 votes. The other candidate was James E. Denman with 970 votes.

In the Westfall District, Troy McPherson received 1,013 votes, Richard Redman 989 votes and Shirley Dunlap Bowser 839 votes. Unsuccessful in his bid for a school board post in the district was Norwin O'Connor with 685 votes.

At Logan Elm, Donald K. Bowser received 705 votes and Wesley Graves Jr., 545. For the county board, Harold E. Lindsey received 2,734 votes and Judson J. Beougher, 2,269.

Court, put this question to San Francisco voters:

"Shall it be the policy of the city and county of San Francisco that there be an immediate cease-fire and withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam so that the Vietnamese people can settle their own problems?"

Alioto said he believed the peace proposition result should encourage those supporting a negotiated settlement of the Vietnam conflict.

"I personally feel there should be a negotiated peace, followed by an American withdrawal, and then a return to Vietnam with a massive American aid program," he said.

Voters in Cambridge, Mass., cast ballots on a similar peace proposition Tuesday. But the result may not be known for three weeks because Cambridge elects a city council by proportional representation with second and third choices.

Cambridge officials said the peace referendum would not be counted until the council tabulation is completed.

Dearborn Mich., voted a year ago on a peace advisory resolution. It was defeated 20,667 to 13,124.

Attempts to place the peace question on the ballot in other major cities, including New York, have failed.

Narcotic Buyer Bound to Jury

A Chillicothe man was apprehended by Circleville Patrolman Wesley Barton Tuesday evening and charged with purchasing exempt narcotics illegally.

According to Barton, George Clayton Karr, 52, Chillicothe, made purchases at two local drugstores Oct. 23. State statutes limit purchase of the narcotic to one in 48 hours.

Karr entered a plea of guilty to the charge. He was bound to the Grand Jury under $5,000 bond.

It was the second offense for Karr, who pleaded guilty to a similar charge in 1965. At that time he was placed on three years probation.

Woman Injured In Auto Crash

A Kingston woman was injured 6:50 p.m. Tuesday when her small foreign made car spun out of control on an icy railroad bridge on Route 36.

Mary K. Woods, 26, was admitted to Chillicothe Hospital for treatment of a broken left jaw and other injuries.

The car she was driving was demolished. She was alone. The accident was investigated by Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff James Lockard.

Marines, Viet Reds Fight; Air Action Is Heavy

SAIGON (AP) — A fierce U.S. Marine battle with North Vietnamese troops, Communist attacks up and down the country on provincial capitals and refugee hamlets, and heavy air strikes against North Vietnam that cost three American warplanes were reported today.

U.S. Marines charged through a screen of American tear gas to take a heavily fortified village which the North Vietnamese abandoned Tuesday after nearly 24 hours of hard fighting and bombardment in the coastal lowlands 27 miles south of Da Nang.

The Marines reported 22 of their men killed and 58 wounded, most of them in a savage machine-gun crossfire from the enemy. The Leathernecks said they found 36 enemy bodies, but terrified villagers said the retreating Communists carried away at least two dozen of their dead.

Communist units also showed increased ferocity in meeting U.S. probes in which 30 Americans and 78 of the enemy were reported killed at Loc Ninh, 71 miles northwest of Saigon, and near Dak To, in the central highlands.

The step-up Communist activity and in Red opposition to U.S. search operations appeared to indicate that the Communists are not being as elusive as they have been and may be moving into positions for new thrusts on several fronts now that the monsoon rains have moved north. Intelligence report indicate there are at least five Communist divisions in central Vietnam that may be poised for new offensives.

In the Mekong Delta, the Viet Cong launched a series of mortar and ground assaults before dawn on an airfield, a South Vietnamese special forces company with American advisers and the provincial capital of Co Lanh. Fifty mortar rounds slammed into the provincial capital, killing two children and an adult and wounding 68 others.

In the air, Air Force fighter-bombers flew to within 21 miles of Red China's border Tuesday to again attack one of North Vietnam's two rail links with China. Navy planes hit the An Ninh Ngao shipyard and repair facility 12 miles northwest of Haiphong, apparently for the first time.

The Marine battle below Da Nang began Monday with a helicopter assault into a valley to kick off Operation Essex but the U.S. Command kept the drive under security wraps until today.

David Kraft, Gary Rainer, David Betz, and Don Hickman.

Ohio's New Traffic Laws

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is one of a series, by The Ohio Department of Highway Safety, on new traffic laws passed by the 107th General Assembly.

The registrant of motor vehicles may require any holder of a driver's license to submit to a license examination or a physical examination at any time to determine his fitness to drive.

Such examination is mandatory for drivers who have more than seven penalty points assessed against them in a two-year period. The registrar must notify the driver, by registered mail, that the examination must be taken.

If the driver refuses or neglects to take the tests, his license must be suspended or revoked.

Should the registrant have cause to believe a driver is incompetent or otherwise not qualified to be licensed, he may demand that the driver take a physical or license examination or both. Refusal to neglect to take the exams is a basis for loss or suspension of the driving permit.

Following the examination on either the point - system or competency provisions the registrant may suspend or revoke the license, allow the driver to retain his permit, or issue a restricted license.

This system becomes effective Dec. 9, 1967.

By Mrs. A. B. Wynkoop

The Stoutsville PTO sponsored a "homecoming dance" in honor of the Amanda-Clearcreek Junior High Football Team, managers, and cheerleaders on Sat. Nov. 4th in the Stoutsville School gym. Each seventh and eighth grade home room elected a girl to vie for the title of "Football Queen."

The final vote for the queen was made by the fifty-four players, cheerleaders, and managers. Miss Lisa Carroll was given the honor of queen. Don Hickman was elected by the football squad to be honorary captain and to crown the queen. The decision was not announced until the night of the dance.

Mr. Prul Kraft acted as "master of ceremonies." The girls elected to vie for the football queen title were Pam Thaxton, Margaret Rowley, Karen Tiller, Cynthia Smith, Robin Davis, Carol Stoneburner, Debbie Mosley, and Lisa Carroll (queen).

Part of the evenings entertainment was provided by the "Freblish's Four". This is a newly formed band consisting of

Scioto Twp., Orient Accept Tax Levies

The Village of Orient and the township of Scioto voted two to one in favor of their respective "service" levies in Tuesday's election.

Orient voters approved a three-mill tax levy designed to pay for the improvement and repair of city streets by a margin of 45 to 13.

Residents of Scioto Twp. accepted the proposed one-half mill levy ear-marked for fire protection by a vote of 321 to 147.

Both levies will be in force for five years.

"Shall it be the policy of the city and county of San Francisco that there be an immediate cease-fire and withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam so that the Vietnamese people can settle their own problems?"

Alioto said he believed the peace proposition result should encourage those supporting a negotiated settlement of the Vietnam conflict.

"I personally feel there should be a negotiated peace, followed by an American withdrawal, and then a return to Vietnam with a massive American aid program," he said.

Voters in Cambridge, Mass., cast ballots on a similar peace proposition Tuesday. But the result may not be known for three weeks because Cambridge elects a city council by proportional representation with second and third choices.

Cambridge officials said the peace referendum would not be counted until the council tabulation is completed.

Dearborn Mich., voted a year ago on a peace advisory resolution. It was defeated 20,667 to 13,124.

Attempts to place the peace question on the ballot in other major cities, including New York, have failed.

Narcotic Buyer Bound to Jury

A Chillicothe man was apprehended by Circleville Patrolman Wesley Barton Tuesday evening and charged with purchasing exempt narcotics illegally.

According to Barton, George Clayton Karr, 52, Chillicothe, made purchases at two local drugstores Oct. 23. State statutes limit purchase of the narcotic to one in 48 hours.

Karr entered a plea of guilty to the charge. He was bound to the Grand Jury under $5,000 bond.

It was the second offense for Karr, who pleaded guilty to a similar charge in 1965. At that time he was placed on three years probation.

Woman Injured In Auto Crash

A Kingston woman was injured 6:50 p.m. Tuesday when her small foreign made car spun out of control on an icy railroad bridge on Route 36.

Mary K. Woods, 26, was admitted to Chillicothe Hospital for treatment of a broken left jaw and other injuries.

The car she was driving was demolished. She was alone. The accident was investigated by Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff James Lockard.

Bishop Celebrates 105th Birthday

NEW YORK (AP) — Bishop Herbert E. Welch of Christ Methodist Church said he felt "pretty good, considering" as he celebrated his 105th birthday Tuesday.

The bishop was president of Ohio Wesleyan University from 1905 to 1916. In later years he worked primarily in the far east.

Bishop Welch lives with his daughter.

Marines, Viet Reds Fight; Air Action Is Heavy

SAIGON (AP) — A fierce U.S. Marine battle with North Vietnamese troops, Communist attacks up and down the country on provincial capitals and refugee hamlets, and heavy air strikes against North Vietnam that cost three American war planes were reported today.

U.S. Marines charged through a screen of American tear gas to take a heavily fortified village which the North Vietnamese abandoned Tuesday after nearly 24 hours of hard fighting and bombardment in the coastal lowlands 27 miles south of Da Nang.

The Marines reported 22 of their men killed and 58 wounded, most of them in a savage machine-gun crossfire from the enemy. The Leathernecks said they found 36 enemy bodies, but terrified villagers said the retreating Communists carried away at least two dozen of their dead.

Communist units also showed increased ferocity in meeting U.S. probes in which 30 Americans and 78 of the enemy were reported killed at Loc Ninh, 71 miles northwest of Saigon, and near Dak To, in the central highlands.

The step-up Communist activity and in Red opposition to U.S. search operations appeared to indicate that the Communists are not being as elusive as they have been and may be moving into positions for new thrusts on several fronts now that the monsoon rains have moved north. Intelligence report indicate there are at least five Communist divisions in central Vietnam that may be poised for new offensives.

In the Mekong Delta, the Viet Cong launched a series of mortar and ground assaults before dawn on an airfield, a South Vietnamese special forces company with American advisers and the provincial capital of Co Lanh. Fifty mortar rounds slammed into the provincial capital, killing two children and an adult and wounding 68 others.

In the air, Air Force fighter-bombers flew to within 21 miles of Red China's border Tuesday to again attack one of North Vietnam's two rail links with China. Navy planes hit the An Ninh Ngoai shipyard and repair facility 12 miles northwest of Haiphong, apparently for the first time.

The Marine battle below Da Nang began Monday with a helicopter assault into a valley to kick off Operation Essex but the U.S. Command kept the drive under security wraps until today.

AP correspondent Bob Ohman, with units of the 5th Marine Regiment in the assault, reported two platoons were pinned down in rice paddies in a crossfire from enemy machine guns shortly after the landing.

Derby

Mrs. Georgia Sweet
896-2462

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Lewis are proud parents of a lovely boy born Monday Oct. 30, in Berger Hospital. Maternal Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Troy McPherson.

The Derby Methodist Church will hold its annual Turkey supper on Saturday, Nov. 18. Serving will begin at 5 p.m. and continue till 7:30 p.m. Prices are $1.50 a plate for adults and .75 for children. Everyone is invited.

Parents — don't forget the Derby PTG meets this Thursday night, November 9.

To friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Yoakum — Chris is now a patient in Mercy Hospital, 1439 S. High St., Columbus, 43201, Room 308.

Brithday greetings this week go to Debbie Joy Wardell on Nov. 5; Arden Yoakum, Nov. 6; Bruce Weaver, Nov. 9; and to Mike Wardell who will be one year old on Nov. 11.

Celebrating anniversaries this week are Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Spangler—37 years—on Nov. 7, and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bauhan on Nov. 8.

The Leathernecks called for tear gas from U.S. fighter-jets at dusk Monday so they could retrieve their dead and wounded. There was sporadic fighting throughout the night, and the village was pounded with artillery, bombs and napalm.

Tuesday morning the village was again sprayed with tear gas and the Marines pushed in to find that the enemy had fled during the night.

Geese Crash Into Jetliner

CLEVELAND (AP) — Glass from a broken cockpit window in a United Air Lines jet passenger plane injured a copilot as the aircraft ran into a flock of geese shortly after take-off Tuesday night and had to return to Cleveland Hopkins International Airport.

The flight No. 105 west to Chicago and Los Angeles, carried three crewmen and 74 passengers. The passengers boarded another plane.

Joseph G. Collins, 36, of Los Angeles, the copilot, was treated at Fairview Hospital for cuts and glass splinters in his eye.

Stoutsville News

By Mrs. A. B. Wynkoop

The Stoutsville PTO sponsored a "homecoming dance" in honor of the Amanda-Clearcreek Junior High Football Team, managers, and cheerleaders on Sat. Nov. 4th in the Stoutsville School gym. Each seventh and eighth grade home room elected a girl to vie for the title of "Football Queen."

The final vote for the queen was made by the fifty-four players, cheerleaders, and managers. Miss Lisa Carroll was given the honor of queen. Don Hickman was elected by the football squad to be honorary captain and to crown the queen. The decision was not announced until the night of the dance.

Mr. Prul Kraft acted as "master of ceremonies." The girls elected to vie for the football queen title were Pam Thaxton, Margaret Rowley, Karen Tiller, Cynthia Smith, Robin Davis, Carol Stoneburner, Debbie Mosley, and Lisa Carroll (queen). Part of the evenings entertainment was provided by the "Freb's Four". This is a newly formed band consisting of David Kraft, Gary Rainer, David Betz, and Don Hickman.

Our thanks to Mr. Wayne Evans, Mr. Larry Boughner, and Mr. Richard Crawford for leading our junior high football team through and undefeated season.

Tickets Available For Final Game

Tickets for the Circleville - Reynoldsburg football game will be available at Bingman and Risch drugstores until game time Friday it was announced today by Don Poling, Circleville faculty director.

Poling noted that area fans could avoid the waiting line at the football field ticket booth by purchasing ducats in advance of the game.

Scioto Twp., Orient Accept Tax Levies

The Village of Orient and the township of Scioto voted two to one in favor of their respective "service" levies in Tuesday's election.

Orient voters approved a three-mill tax levy designed to pay for the improvement and repair of city streets by a margin of 45 to 13.

Residents of Scioto Twp. accepted the proposed one-half mill levy ear-marked for fire protection by a vote of 321 to 147.

Both levies will be in force for five years.

Anita Bryant To Stay Home

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Singer Anita Bryant, for the first time in eight years, will not accompany Bob Hope on his annual Christmas visit to U.S. servicemen.

"It's just that my children are getting old enough to understand Christmas and I feel I should be with them," she explained.

Happy Russians

MOSCOW (AP) — Thousands of Russians sang and danced in Moscow's streets into the early hour today and fireworks exploded overhead in celebration of 50 years of Soviet rule.

Ohio's New Traffic Laws

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is one of a series, by The Ohio Department of Highway Safety, on new traffic laws passed by the 107th General Assembly.

The registrant of motor vehicles may require any holder of a driver's license to submit to a license examination or a physical examination at any time to determine his fitness to drive.

Such examination is mandatory for drivers who have more than seven penalty points assessed against them in a two-year period. The registrar must notify the driver, by registered mail, that the examination must be taken.

If the driver refuses or neglects to take the tests, his license must be suspended or revoked.

Should the registrant have cause to believe a driver is incompetent or otherwise not qualified to be licensed, he may demand that the driver take a physical or license examination or both. Refusal to neglect to take the exams is a basis for loss or suspension of the driving permit.

Following the examination on either the point - system or competency provisions the registrant may suspend or revoke the license, allow the driver to retain his permit, or issue a restricted license.

This system becomes effective Dec. 9, 1967.

Offices Close For Holiday

Federal offices of the city will be closed on Saturday in observance of Veteran's Day. There will be no deliveries or window service from the post office. The Selective Service office also will be closed.

In the city offices, the auditor's office will remain open all day Friday and will follow the normal procedure and close on Saturday. The City Health Office will observe the holiday on Friday. Municipal Court will close its doors at noon on Friday and reopen on Monday, Nov. 13.

Saturn Countdown Gets Under Way

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Saturn 5 super-rocket is poised today for Thursday's high-stakes flight to test its worthiness, a thoroughbred workhorse of the American space program.

Technicians scrambled in the shadow of the 36-story-high machine to complete the countdown ticking toward a 7 a.m.

Claim Reds Won't Free U.S. Pilots

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk disclosed today he told Mrs. John F. Kennedy that North Vietnam could not release the American fliers it holds prisoner "because it would be an encouragement to continue the bombing."

"They also consider the pilots as war criminals," Cambodia's ruling prince told a news conference after Mrs. Kennedy flew to Thailand.

The prince, whose government maintains close ties with North Vietnam and the Viet Cong, said Mrs. Kennedy had brought up the subject of American prisoners and inquired particularly about American airmen held in North Vietnam and about Donald Ramsey, an AID official captured in South Vietnam almost two years ago. Several Americans taken by the Viet Cong have been released through Cambodia in the past.

Mrs. Kennedy, looking a bit tired after her six-day stay in Cambodia, returned to Bangkok aboard a U.S. Air Force plane escorted to the Thai border by two Soviet-built Cambodian MIGs. After three days of social functions, sightseeing and shopping, she and her party leave for home early Saturday.

Women Take Over As Bus Drivers

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — The driver wheeling a big city bus through downtown commuter traffic in Spokane next week could turn out to be a demure blonde.

R. W. Harder, manager of Spokane City Lines, said the firm has been unable to find qualified men for the job and woman drivers have worked out well.

"They are dependable and have received many compliments from bus passengers," he said of the nine housewives hired recently to work part time and on split shifts.

Harder said three of the nine will be made full-time drivers next week.

EST Thursday launch. The workmen spent Tuesday readying an Apollo spacecraft, much like the one astronauts will use for the moon trip, for its ride atop Saturn 5. Today's chores called for checkouts and first fueling of the rocket itself.

Worksheets for today were punctuated with stop-points where the space agency must decide if things are going well enough to continue. If work lags, a built-in 7½-hour hold can be used to catch up, and a Thursday launch could be delayed to as late as midday.

Never before has the space agency launched anything as big, powerful and complicated as Saturn 5, but this is the vehicle built to send Americans on their way to the moon.

The mighty ship is crammed with equipment untested in space. Although its maiden flight is to be unmanned and only 8½ hours long, cameras and sensors aboard seek answers to thousands of open questions about the rocket's limitations.

The Saturn 5 weighs 6 million pounds, of which 5.6 million pounds is propellant, enough to orbit the combined weight of everything America has sent into space before.

Its first stage, untested in flight, is to spend most of the total rocket's fuel and thrust to loft it 38½ miles over the Atlantic.

There, the oxygen-hydrogen powered second stage, also making its flight debut, is to take over and carry the vehicle up to 117 miles. The proven third stage is to place itself and the Apollo craft into a circular parking orbit.

After two revolutions, the third stage will be called upon to restart in space for the first time, sending the Apollo ship on a course much like the one moon-bound astronauts would fly.

Man Arrested In Theft Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 43-year-old man was arrested Monday at his trailer home in Shreve, Ohio, by the FBI and brought to Cleveland Tuesday on charges of theft of cattle sale receipts and unlawful flight from Illinois.

Charles G. Cusick, Cleveland FBI agent in charge, said that when the FBI arrested Donald Carl Glenn in Shreve, they seized $115,000 in money and negotiable checks.

Cusick said Glenn bought cattle in Tennessee and sold them later in Illinois and Iowa. An additional charge of interstate transportation of stolen property was filed against Glenn here where he was arraigned Tuesday.

Friends Pay Last Respects To Garner

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — Friends and neighbors paid last respects today to former Vice President John Nance Garner, who left Washington in 1941 swearing he would never cross the Potomac River again—and never did.

Garner died early Tuesday, just 15 days short of his 99th birthday.

"Cactus Jack," as he was known during most of his 49 years as an elected official in Austin and Washington, lay in state at a Uvalde funeral home. Simple services are set for Thursday afternoon.

Garner, with a bright red carnation in his coat lapel, lay in an opened steel gray color casket of copper. In death his shaggy white eyebrows bristled as prominently as a quarter century ago when he became the only person to walk directly from one side of the nation's capitol as speaker of the House to the other side as vice president.

Hundreds who knew him as a Texas legislator, as a congressman for 30 years, and as vice president under Franklin D. Roosevelt from 1932 to 1940, sent condolences.

"Few have given so long a time and fewer still have used their years to such advantage," President Lyndon B. Johnson said in Washington.

"He enjoyed the respect of all Americans as the spokesman for the rugged and practical individualism that played such an important role in the building and growth of this nation," former President Harry S. Truman said at Independence, Mo.

Garner, who had been looking forward to his 99th birthday Nov. 22 and then to a 100th birthday, died quietly without apparent pain following a coronary occlusion.

Flagpole Sitter Won't Retire

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Professional flagpole-sitter Richard "Dixie" Blaton has reached his 65th birthday but to avoid letting "the grass grow under my feet," does not plan to retire.

Blaton, a flagpole-sitter the last 40 years, said that when applying for Social Security, he asked for reduced benefits, making him eligible to keep on working.

He claims a world record of 125 days and nights perched atop a pole in Stockholm, Sweden in 1965.

Pork Barrel Bills Flow Like Water

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate this week begins considering $52 million worth of pork barrel projects that could carry an ultimate price tag of $4.1 billion.

The $52 million—included in a $4.7 billion package of public works bills—is the first-year cost of construction start, new planning starts and the extension of planning projects begun in previous years.

The ultimate cost of those is $4.1 billion—and it will swell the total commitment for pork barrel projects planned or under construction to $15.2 billion.

President Johnson recommended nine new construction starts that would have cost $7.4 million in the fiscal year that began July 1. Their cost on completion years hence would have totaled nearly $153 million.

The House rejected 4 projects, but added 16 new starts of its own. The 1968 cost of the proposed House projects—$5.5 million. Ultimate cost—$93 million.

The Senate accepted the 21 proposals from the House, restored President Johnson's 4 and added 25 more of its own. Cost of the proposed Senate projects in 1968—$12 million. Ultimate cost—$324.5 million.

Thus as the pork barrel bill now stands, there are 50 new construction starts with an eventual cost of $570.66 million.

Johnson also proposed a score of new planning starts, the step preliminary to actual land acquisition and construction. These would cost just under $3 million in fiscal 1968, but final costs would be $335.5 million.

Each house then added 11 new planning starts. In 1968, the House starts would cost $905,000 and the Senate's $6.19 million. Their respective completion costs are potentially $62 million and $244 million.

On the 80 carryover planning projects from previous years.

the bill provides $16.7 million in new planning funds—with a completion cost of $2.8 billion.

Despite the big slice of pork, Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., told the Senate its Appropriations Committee "has deferred the initiation of many worthy projects" because of the Vietnam war.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., on the other hand, called the bill "a travesty of rational economic management and economy in government."

Illegal Service Can Be Billed

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Municipal Court Judge Charles Smith ruled Tuesday a cable TV firm had a right to bill a person for services received illegally.

The ruling was in favor of Portsmouth Cablevision, Inc., in a case originated by a home owner. It was alleged in court that the home owner tapped onto the firm's TV cable without the firm's knowledge.

Portsmouth Cablevision billed the unsigned customer for the service and the homeowner went to court to question the firm's right to bill him.

Name of the home owner was not immediately available.

Saturn Countdown Gets Under Way

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Saturn 5 super-rocket is poised today for Thursday's high-stakes flight to test its workability, a thoroughbred workhorse of the American space program.

Technicians scrambled in the shadow of the 36-story-high machine to complete the countdown ticking toward a 7 a.m.

Claim Reds Won't Free U.S. Pilots

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk disclosed today he told Mrs. John F. Kennedy that North Vietnam could not release the American fliers it holds prisoner "because it would be an encouragement to continue the bombing."

"They also consider the pilots as war criminals," Cambodia's ruling prince told a news conference after Mrs. Kennedy flew to Thailand.

The prince, whose government maintains close ties with North Vietnam and the Viet Cong, said Mrs. Kennedy had brought up the subject of American prisoners and inquired particularly about American airmen held in North Vietnam and about Donald Ramsey, an AID official captured in South Vietnam almost two years ago. Several Americans taken by the Viet Cong have been released through Cambodia in the past.

Mrs. Kennedy, looking a bit tired after her six-day stay in Cambodia, returned to Bangkok aboard a U.S. Air Force plane escorted by the Thai border by two Soviet-built Cambodian MIGs. After three days of social functions, sightseeing and shopping, she and her party leave for home early Saturday.

Women Take Over As Bus Drivers

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — The driver wheeling a big city bus through downtown commuter traffic in Spokane next week could turn out to be a demure blonde.

R. W. Harder, manager of Spokane City Lines, said the firm has been unable to find qualified men for the job and women drivers have worked out well.

"They are dependable and have received many compliments from bus passengers," he said of the nine housewives hired recently to work part time and on split shifts.

Harder said three of the nine will be made full-time drivers next week.

Friends Pay Last Respects To Garner

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — Friends and neighbors paid last respects today to former Vice President John Nance Garner, who left Washington in 1941 swearing he would never cross the Potomac River again—and never did.

Garner died early Tuesday, just 15 days short of his 99th birthday.

"Cactus Jack," as he was known during most of his 49 years as an elected official in Austin and Washington, lay in state at a Uvalde funeral home. Simple services are set for Thursday afternoon.

Garner, with a bright red carnation in his coat lapel, lay in an opened steel gray color casket of copper. In death his shaggy white eyebrows bristled as prominently as a quarter century ago when he became the only person to walk directly from one side of the nation's capitol as speaker of the House to the other side as vice president.

Hundreds who knew him as a Texas legislator, as a congressman for 30 years, and as vice president under Franklin D. Roosevelt from 1932 to 1940, sent condolences.

"Few have given so long a time and fewer still have used their years to such advantage," President Lyndon B. Johnson said in Washington.

"He enjoyed the respect of all Americans as the spokesman for the rugged and practical individualism that played such an important role in the building and growth of this nation," former President Harry S. Truman said at Independence, Mo.

Garner, who had been looking forward to his 99th birthday Nov. 22 and then to a 100th birthday, died quietly without apparent pain following a coronary occlusion.

Bride Tells of Cleveland Ordeal

CLEVELAND (AP)—It has been a week since the honeymoon of Charles and Lida Caldwell was turned into a nightmare when a 23-year-old former suitor shot and wounded Charles and abducted Mrs. Caldwell for a weekend before wounding her and fatally wounding himself last Monday afternoon.

This is the 19-year-old bride's story. Part of it she told to Cleveland Plain Dealer reporter Earl Quebedeaux, who visited her in the hospital; the rest of it he pieced together from interviews with persons close to her.

"Chuck and I went to Detroit Tuesday of last week with another couple—friends of ours who were getting married there—for our blood tests," Mrs. Caldwell said. "We'd spent a week trying to get married but couldn't because of the waiting period in Ohio and all. So we decided to go to Detroit."

"Anyway, we walked from the station to a hotel (in Cleveland) where Chuck had made reservations. When he walked into the room I saw somebody in a mirror. It was Bob Batch. He was behind the door as we walked in."

"We both asked him to please leave us alone; we were married now and I didn't want to see him anymore. It was as if he didn't hear. He said he wanted me to go with him."

"Chuck said something and Bob pulled a pistol from his coat pocket and hit Chuck in the face with it. The gun went off. The next thing I knew Chuck was in the hall and Bob and I were in the room—we'd moved around so fast—and that is when Bob shot Chuck in the face."

Lida said she screamed and started to run to her 18-year-old husband, but Batch grabbed her. Charles was holding his face, blood streaming through his fingers. Dazed and shocked, Charles walked away as if he didn't know what he was doing and finally collapsed.

"Bob pulled me outside and shoved me into his car. I didn't really know what was going on. Bob kept saying Chuck was dead. I was terrified and beside myself. I couldn't believe all this was happening."

"The car wouldn't start, so he grabbed me again and he stopped a cab and took me to his apartment. When we got there he started bolting the doors and unscrewing lightbulbs. He wasn't talking—I'd never seen him like this. Then he fixed me something to eat."

"I kept pleading with him to let me go, trying to make him understand I was married now and to let me go see about Charles."

"But he just wasn't listening. All he'd say was that Charles was dead. And I didn't want to believe that."

She said that while with

Batch, time passed slowly and that sometime Saturday night she fell asleep in Batch's bed. She said he was in a chair watching her. She awoke early Sunday morning. Batch still was watching her.

Meanwhile, Charles had been found after the shooting. Police were called and he was rushed to St. Vincent Charity Hospital. Police learned what happened and when they arrived at Batch's apartment Sunday morning, Lida said Batch seemed more uncertain than ever what to do.

"He finally yelled at them to go away or he'd kill both of us," Lida said.

She declined to give details of the rest of the ordeal that lasted until 12:30 p. m. Monday, during which police, clergymen and relatives tried to talk Batch into giving up.

Lida said at no time did Batch otherwise molest her. "All he ever did, she said, 'was hold me now and then and hold my hand."

Shortly after noon Monday, Batch's mother arrived from Johnstown, Pa., and tried to talk to Batch from the hall.

"When he heard her voice," Lida said, "he began to act funny. He'd told me once he didn't care for his mother—he got mad. His face changed all sorts of ways like people do when they're about to become violent."

"I yelled at her to go away and that's when Bob started to shoot me. My God—HIS GUN jammed twice. Then he pushed it against my chest and as he started to pull the trigger again I tried to push the gun away."

The gun fired. Doctors said Lida saved her life by pushing the gun away. The bullet barely missed her heart.

"I guess I fell," Lida continued. "Then I saw him shoot himself and he fell over me saying, 'I love you, I love' or something like that."

Police rushed in. Batch was dead on arrival at Doctors Hospital. Lida will be leaving the same hospital soon.

The rest of Quebedeaux's story he pieced together from interviews with Mrs. Caldwell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pendergraft; Charles and his mother, Mrs. June Caldwell; attorney Frank J. Gorman, who is handling magazine inquiries for an exclusive story contract; county welfare office case workers who once worked with the Caidwells, and others.

Charles and Lida Caldwell quit school and got married to escape what all teen-agers call parental domination; to assert their love for each other, to get away from Batch, to make their own way.

They had known each other for almost two years. The Pendergrafts said they learned long ago the two were becoming serious about each other. Naturally they wanted Lida to finish school. They began urging her to stop seeing Charles.

The couple wanted to get married. Charles knew both should finish school. So about four months ago Charles decided he and Lida should stop seeing each other regularly and wait until graduation.

Both started dating others. Shortly afterwards Lida met Batch.

Her parents liked Batch. He was older than Charles, and was out of school. He had a job and a car.

Then Charles and Lida began seeing each other again. About two weeks ago, Charles asked Lida to marry him. She accepted.

Charles wants to finish school. But they are beginning marriage without a dime, with practically only the clothes on their backs. Their wedding rings belong to Charles' mother. Other than that all they have, Lida said, "is love and hope."

House Extends Protection Time

WASHINGTON (AP) The House has voted to provide Secret Service protection for Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her two children for another 15 months, overriding objections by a Republican who expressed doubt the taxpayers would approve the $210,000 expense.

Rep. H. R. Gross of Iowa said Monday the widow of the assassinated president should employ private protection if she needs it.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee said that while Mrs. Kennedy did not ask for the extended protection, Treasury Secretary Henry R. Fowler, who has authority over the Secret Service, believes she should have it. Without the extension the protection would end Nov. 23.

The vote to pass the bill was

'90 Day Mistress' Won't Last Long

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Ninety-Day Mistress," a play unlikely to last nearly that long, opened Monday night at Broadway's Biltmore theater.

On hand in the trite boy-girl bedtime skirmish are Dyan Cannon, who has filed for divorce from Cary Grant, and Martin Milner, a regular traveler on TV's "Route 66." Their performances won't start a box-office stampede.

The material which they and such veterans as Ruth Ford and Walter Abel—who enlivens his single scene with true, sudden drollery—must wrestle really isn't fair.

up a chap who turns out to be a private detective.

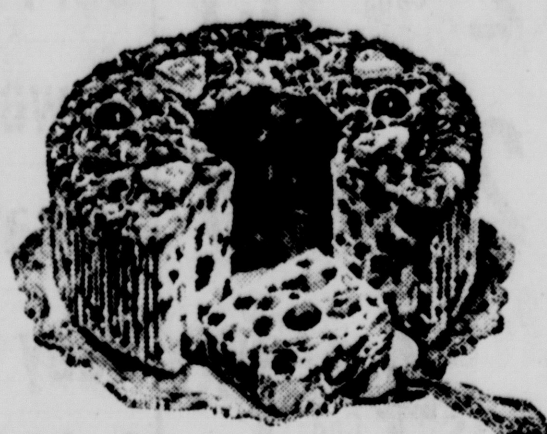

The course of true romance, wouldn't you know, turns sticky when she discovered that he's spying on her and her mother.

In unrelenting his dubious plot, author J. J. Coyle shows surpassing faith in well worn gags and an unerring tendency to grope for shallow profundities that will emboss the play with pseudosignificance.

Miss Cannon, as the female Casanova, alternates between sulky deadpan and cutie-pie simpers. Milner, jumping in and out of a bed that periodically vanishes into Leon Munier's apartment setting, appeared understandably preoccupied.

It's America's most popular! Why?

We think it's excellence of product.

Years and years ago, when we decided to bake

Jane Parker Fruit Cake, we also decided to bake the best.

That's why Jane Parker Fruit Cake was then

and is today over 2/3 fruits and nuts.

Just enough delicious cake to hold together the bounty of cherries imported from France, pineapple from the Far East, citron from Italy, sun-drenched raisins from California and meaty pecans from the South.

We think, too, that value has made it popular.

IMAGINE, THE 5-LB. CAKE COSTS ONLY $3.99.

That's the same low price as last year

Justices Reject Ohioan's Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Columbus man facing death in Ohio's electric chair has been denied a hearing by the Supreme Court.

The convicted man, William Banks, 28, pleaded guilty to the September 1963 stabbing death of Mary E. Cross, also of Columbus, and then threw himself at the mercy of the court.

His attorney, Irwin W. Barkan, had appealed to the Supreme Court on grounds the death penalty was cruel and unusual punishment. The high court refused Monday to hear the appeal.

Lida said she screamed and started to run to her 18-year-old husband, but Batch grabbed her. Charles was holding his face, blood streaming through his fingers. Dazed and shocked, Charles walked away as if he didn't know what he was doing and finally collapsed.

"Bob pulled me outside and shoved me into his car. I didn't really know what was going on. Bob kept saying Chuck was dead. I was terrified and beside myself. I couldn't believe all this was happening."

"The car wouldn't start, so he grabbed me again and he stopped a cab and took me to his apartment. When we got there he started bolting the doors and unscrewing lightbulbs. He wasn't talking—I'd never seen him like this. Then he fixed me something to eat."

"I kept pleading with him to let me go, trying to make him understand I was married now and to let me go see about Charles."

"But he just wasn't listening. All he'd say was that Charles was dead. And I didn't want to believe that."

She said that while with

Batch, time passed slowly and that sometime Saturday night she fell asleep in Batch's bed. She said he was in a chair watching her. She awoke early Sunday morning. Batch still was watching her.

Meanwhile, Charles had been found after the shooting, police were called and he was rushed to St. Vincent Charity Hospital. Police learned what happened and when they arrived at Batch's apartment Sunday morning, Lida said Batch seemed more uncertain than ever what to do.

"He finally yelled at them to go away or he'd kill both of us," Lida said.

She declined to give details of the rest of the ordeal that lasted until 12:30 p. m. Monday, during which police, clergymen and relatives tried to talk Batch into giving up.

Lida said at no time did Batch otherwise molest her. "All he ever did, she said, 'was hold me now and then and hold my hand."

Shortly after noon Monday, Batch's mother arrived from Johnstown, Pa., and tried to talk to Batch from the hall.

"When he heard her voice," Lida said, "he began to act funny. He'd told me once he didn't care for his mother—he got mad. His face changed all sorts of ways like people do when they're about to become violent."

"I yelled at her to go away and that's when Bob started to shoot me. My God—HIS GUN jammed twice. Then he pushed it against my chest and as he started to pull the trigger again I tried to push the gun away."

The gun fired, Doctors said Lida saved her life by pushing the gun away. The bullet barely missed her heart.

"I guess I fell," Lida continued. "Then I saw him shoot himself and he fell over me saying, 'I love you, I love' or something like that."

Police rushed in. Batch was dead on arrival at Doctors Hospital. Lida will be leaving the same hospital soon.

The rest of Quebedeaux's story he pieced together from interviews with Mrs. Caldwell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pendergraft; Charles and his mother, Mrs. June Caldwell; attorney Frank J. Gorman, who is handling magazine inquiries for an exclusive story; county welfare office case workers who once worked with the Caldwells, and others.

Charles and Lida Caldwell quit school and got married to escape what all teen-agers call parental domination; to assert their love for each other, to get away from Batch, to make their own way.

They had known each other for almost two years. The Pendergrafts said they learned long ago the two were becoming serious about each other. Naturally they wanted Lida to finish school. They began urging her to stop seeing Charles.

The couple wanted to get married. Charles knew both should finish school. So about four months ago Charles decided he and Lida should stop seeing each other regularly and wait until graduation.

Both started dating others. Shortly afterwards Lida met Batch.

Her parents liked Batch. He was older than Charles, and was out of school. He had a job and a car.

Then Charles and Lida began seeing each other again. About two weeks ago, Charles asked Lida to marry him. She accepted.

Charles wants to finish school. But they are beginning marriage without a dime, with practically only the clothes on their backs. Their wedding rings belong to Charles' mother. Other than that all they have, Lida said, "is love and hope."

House Extends Protection Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has voted to provide Secret Service protection for Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her two children for another 15 months, overriding objections by a Republican who expressed doubt the taxpayers would approve the $210,000 expense.

Rep. H.R. Gross of Iowa said Monday the widow of the assassinated president should employ private protection if she needs it.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee said that while Mrs. Kennedy did not ask for the extended protection, Treasury Secretary Henry R. Fowler, who has authority over the Secret Service, believes she should have it. Without the extension the protection would end Nov. 23.

The vote to pass the bill was

'90 Day Mistress' Won't Last Long

NEW YORK (AP)—"The 'Ninety-Day Mistress," a play unlikely to last nearly that long, opened Monday night at Broadway's Biltmore theater.

On hand in the trite boy-girl bedtime skirmish are Dyan Cannon, who has filed for divorce from Cary Grant, and Martin Milner, a regular traveler on TV's "Route 66." Their performances won't start a box-office stampede.

The material which they and such veterans as Ruth Ford and Walter Abel-who enlivens his single scene with true, sudden drollery-must wrestle really isn't fair.

It concerns a miniskirted lass of means whose moral emancipation requires regular switches in amorous lads. Until she picks up a chap who turns out to be a private detective.

The course of true romance, wouldn't you know, turns sticky when she discovered that he's spying on her and her mother.

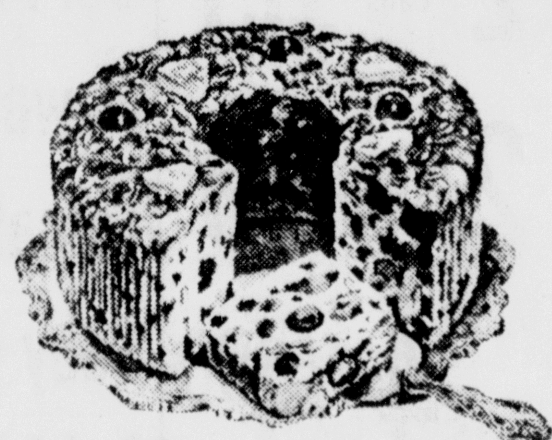

In unreeling his dubious plot, author J. J. Coyle shows surpassing faith in well worn gags and an unnerving tendency to grope for shallow profundities that will emboss the play with pseudosignificance.

Miss Cannon, as the female Casanova, alternates between sulky deadpan and cutie-pie simpers. Milner, jumping in and out of a bed that periodically vanishes into Leon Munier's apartment setting, appeared understandably preoccupied.

The director was Philip Rose, a cosponsor of the production. He, like his author, didn't miss a single cliché.

302 to 11. The measure goes to the Senate.

It's America's most popular! Why?

We think it's excellence of product.

Years and years ago, when we decided to bake

Jane Parker Fruit Cake, we also decided to bake the best.

That's why Jane Parker Fruit Cake was then

and is today over 2/3 fruits and nuts.

Just enough delicious cake to hold together the bounty of cherries imported from France, pineapple from the Far East, citron from Italy, sun-drenched raisins from California and meaty pecans from the South.

We think, too, that value has made it popular.

IMAGINE, THE 5-LB. CAKE COSTS ONLY $3.99.

That's the same low price as last year

Now you know why Jane Parker Fruit Cake is America's most popular.

One other thing you should know: You can buy it only at A&P.

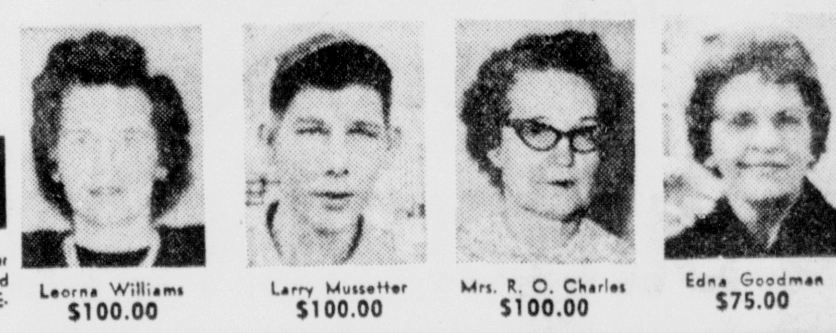

P.S. Wouldn't it make a great gift for someone?

MISSING since Halloween is 16-year-old Elizabeth Newton Schoenck (above), daughter of New York Republican State Chairman Charles Schoenck. She is believed to have lost herself among the hippies of Greenwich Village in the big city. She is blonde, 5-foot-9, weighs 120, wore blue jeans.

Justices Reject Ohioan's Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Columbus man facing death in Ohio's electric chair has been denied a hearing by the Supreme Court.

The convicted man, William Banks, 28, pleaded guilty to the September 1963 stabbing death of Mary E. Cross, also of Columbus, and then threw himself at the mercy of the court.

His attorney, Irwin W. Barkan, had appealed to the Supreme Court on grounds the death penalty was cruel and unusual punishment. The high court refused Monday to hear the appeal.

Motor Vehicle Lists Prove Source for Junk Mail

The Circleville Herald.
14 Wed. Nov. 8, 1967
Circleville, Ohio

By ANTHONY DE NIGRO
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — If you've been wondering how your name got on the latest "junk mail" list, you might ask your state motor vehicle department.

An Associated Press survey shows that most states sell their motor vehicle registration lists—at prices ranging from $70,000 in New York to $8 in West Virginia. Some apparently give them away.

One firm, R. L. Polk & Co. of Detroit, appears to be practically the only customer for the lists and uses them as what must be one of the largest reservoirs in the country for direct mail advertisers.

Polk won't say how much it pays for them—or how much it makes on them—but the survey showed it gets the bulk for a total of not much more than $500,000.

Disclosures of the sale of official public records for commercial use has stirred invasion of privacy controversies in some parts of the country. At least two citizens have gone into court about it.

Most motor vehicle department officials interviewed in the survey considered the sale routine. Typical was the reaction in North Carolina, which sold Polk 2 million names and addresses for $36,000 this year.

"By law our records are open to the public unless they are specifically declared confidential and I guess that's the statute under which we've been proceeding," said Miss Foy Ingram, the North Carolina registration director.

Polk is a 97-year-old firm which also publishes 1,400 city directories. "We do not invade anyone's privacy," said Alvin Kropf, Polk's senior vice president. "As business statisticians and publishers, we gathered public information and refine and publish such facts and figures which are set out in open public records."

The AP survey found that Polk buys or trades for most of the 95 million names and addresses of auto registrants directly through the state capitals at prices apparently dependent on how much the particular state thinks its list is worth.

Polk even has the list of states which say they don't sell them. These are Illinois, Alaska, South Dakota, Kentucky, Washington and Washington, D.C. New York State's $70,000 a year is the highest price Polk pays for one list. California, which has the biggest motor vehicle population in the country, gets $47,000. Rural Alabama gets $52,000 while auto state Michigan gets $1,200. South Carolina charges $75. Wisconsin gets $120. All sell to Polk.

Sometimes Polk trades for the lists. In New Jersey, for instance, Polk is the super sleuth who tracks down 400,000 parking scofflaws a year. In return, it gets the state's registration list free.

Because New Jersey law forbids the sale of auto registrations, the state motor vehicle department has been trading the lists to Polk for more than a decade. Under the arrangement, municipal courts send the state unanswered parking summonses which list only the license number of the vehicle. The state sends numbers to Polk and Polk sends back the name and address of the car's owner.

In Nebraska, Polk pays the salary of a clerk in the motor vehicles department. She sends the lists to Detroit, where the slips are alphabetized and returned to Lincoln.

Besides the auto registration list Minnesota sells to Polk, the state sells 50 to 100 lists of various types to various interest groups. They range from lists of dentists, doctors and restaurants to a computer printout of 210,000 boat owners—the latter for $500.

Every year since 1922, Polk has compiled a complete nationwide list of auto registrations. It uses them primarily, it says, for some 50 statistical reports sold within the automotive industry and secondarily for sale to direct mail advertisers.

Polk, a privately owned company that doesn't make public financial statements, would say only that 10 per cent of its income is derived from the registration lists. It did say, however, that the lists are expensive to the average direct mail buyer.

When it sells to direct mail houses, Polk actually keeps the list and mails the sample or brochure for the advertiser. The auto industry is its largest single user, principally for the mailing of multipaged color brochures at the beginning of a new model year. Other chief customers are auto accessory firms, tire and oil companies, publishing houses and newspapers.

Polk sells direct mail lists to a wide range of firms, from bankers to fertilizer manufacturers. Recently two suits were brought in connection with the state sale of the lists, one in federal court in Manhattan and the other in Superior Court in Hartford, Conn.

Both were filed on the invasion of privacy issue and both are still in litigation. They are apparently the only two court challenges of the practice of selling official records for commercial uses.

In Connecticut, clerical worker Norman S. Chapin of Warehouse Point got angry at the volume of junk mail in his mailbox and decided to do something about it. He moved and refused to furnish his new address to the department of motor vehicles.

Chapin was threatened with loss of his license and relented. But on the day he furnished his new address he also filed suit charging the state was invading his privacy by selling his name to Polk.

Judge Joseph W. Bogdanski issued a temporary injunction last May stopping Connecticut's motor vehicle department from selling its list to Polk for an estimated $20,000 a year. But he did it on grounds the state furnished Polk more than a 1965 law allowed.

Judge Bogdanski refused to rule on the constitutionality of selling the lists, leaving that for later full trial.

In New York, writer Corliss Lamont is appealing a federal district court ruling against his contention that the state's sale of its six-million-name list for $70,000 a year is an invasion of privacy.

Trial Judge Marvin E. Frankel ruled out the constitutional question. "The short, though regular journey from mailbox to trash can, is an acceptable burden, at least so far as the Constitution is concerned," he said.

It is no invasion of privacy at all, he said—merely another battle in the state's effort "to tap a small source of revenue."

Virginia sells its two million auto registrants to Polk for about $11,000 and A. T. Beale, deputy motor vehicles commissioner, sees it as a safeguard to mailbox privacy.

"Actually," he said, "I believe the sale of our list... reduces the amount of junk mail since the automotive industry is able to send mailers to specific customers it wants to reach."

Postmaster Lewis Moore of Nashville, Tenn., hears more often, however, from those who don't agree. "A lot of people complain," he said. "They call us and say they don't want any more. We cannot cut it off once it is in the channels of delivery."

Jobless Rate

4.3 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's jobless rate rose to 4.3 per cent last month, the highest point in two years, the Labor Department said today.

Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics declined to say whether the rise in unemployment indicated an economic lag, but he said a smaller-than-usual increase in employment and a slight drop in the average work week in October "were 'certainly disappointing.'"

The unemployment rate was up two-tenths of one per cent from September and up five-tenths from August for the biggest two-month rise in seven years.

Miami Valley Men Face Charges

CINCINNATI (AP) — A federal grand jury in Cincinnati indicted four Miami Valley men Monday on charges of attempting to destroy a vehicle, a steel truck, moving in interstate commerce.

They were Albert Fletcher Jr., 37, Middletown; June Campbell, 26, Middletown; William Estes, 42, Miamisburg; and Lenza Cox, 42, Franklin.

The four men were charged with trying to destroy, or injure, a motor vehicle carrying a shipment of steel from Middletown to Washington, Mo., during the recent steel haulers strike.

Wallace Starts Ohio Campaign

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace moved into Ohio today for a round of talks to test further the mid-America strength of his unannounced presidential campaign.

Wallace makes his first test tonight at Akron to be followed by talks in five other major Ohio cities in the next seven days.

Wallace isn't a presidential candidate "at the present" but his Ohio tour has been tabbed as a definite move to gain a place on the state's presidential ballot.

The former governor will speak at Toledo Thursday night; Cleveland Friday night; he picks up Monday night at Dayton; goes to Columbus Tuesday night and then wraps up his swing at Cincinnati Wednesday night.

Wallace has indicated he will

UAW, Auto Firm Talk Around Clock

DETROIT (AP) — Representatives of the United Auto Workers and Chrysler Corp. bargained around the clock today trying to avert what would be the second nationwide strike in the auto industry this year.

Some Chrysler operations were threatened with premature shutdown before tonight's midnight strike deadline as truck drivers moving parts in the Detroit area and workers at one of the firm's two most important stamping operations walked off their jobs Tuesday.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, and John D. Leary, Chrysler vice president for administration, led the negotiating teams that have been bargaining for a new contract covering 103,000 workers. The latest session of bargaining began at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

More than 6,000 Chrysler employees refused to work at five operations around the country, including the Sterling stamping plant, the Trenton engine plant, and the interplant transportation office, all in the Detroit area; the Newark, Del., car assembly plant; and the Missouri truck assembly plant near St. Louis.

UAW officials at the international level have been trying to keep their men on the job, a union spokesman said, but he pointed out that the work stoppages could not be called "wildcat strikes" since the union had no contract.

Chillicothe Mead Strike Settled

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—A strike that kept 3,500 persons off the job at the Mead Paper Corp. plant since last Friday was settled Tuesday and operations were to resume at the big plant today.

About 90 members of Local 422, Office and Professional Employees International Union, which struck Friday, agreed to a 13-cent hourly increase now and a 5 per cent hike in the second year of their contract.

The local set up picket lines during the walkout. Members of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulfit and Paper Workers, which represents most of the plant's employees, honored the picket lines.

West Union Man Guilty of Murder

WEST UNION, Ohio (AP)—Neil Whitley of West Union was convicted Monday of two charges of first degree murder in the May 24 death of a nearby Lucasville man.

An Adams County jury of nine men and three women took a little over two hours to return a verdict of guilty against Whitley, 35, and recommended mercy on both counts.

Whitley was arrested in connection with the shooting of Oral Meadows, 58, in the back of the head and the West Union man was indicted on counts of premeditation murder and purposely killing while perpetrating a robbery.

School Board Orders Raises

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio (AP)— The city school board refused Tuesday night to back off completely from a resolution which touched off a teacher strike here.

But it issued a directive for the school board clerk to give pay raises to 87 teachers involved in a strike last spring. The board said this is in anticipation of a ruling from the state attorney general's office that the payments would be legal.

State School Supt. Martin Essex said in Columbus Tuesday that the Martin's Ferry school board averted a possible loss to state aid when it paid teachers Oct. 31 under salary schedules drafted for the current school year.

The resolution adopted 11 days ago called for the teachers to be paid on the basis of 1966-67 schedules, pending a legal ruling from the states on whether the raises should be granted.

Jury Convicts Men of Gambling

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)— A U. S. District Court jury here convicted a nearby Campbell County man and a Hamilton, Ohio, man Tuesday of gaming charges.

The jury took only a little over 1½ hours to return a guilty verdict against Daniel Andrews, Campbell County, and Washington Alexander, Hamilton.

Andrews was sentenced to two years in the federal penitentiary and fined $10,000 and Alexander received a penalty of two years in the penitentiary.

Four Cincinnatians pleaded guilty to gaming conspiracy and were also sentenced to penitentiary terms.

Ohio Counties Get U.S. Grants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— A Federal grant of $36,937 to provide for continuation of legal services for low income residents of Tuscarawas County was announced Tuesday by the Ohio Office of Opportunity.

Also announced was the allocation of $2,600 to finance a Neighborhood Youth Corps "Supportive services" project in the Delaware-Madison - Union County area namely providing counselors for 200 enrollees.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

Mostly sunny skies were forecast over Ohio this afternoon, after some local areas of fog and cloudiness cleared this morning.

It was unseasonably cool again this morning in many locations, with Dayton reporting a 19-degree reading. Elsewhere temperatures were in the 20s except around 30 close to Lake Erie, where the water temperature still was about 52 degrees.

A high pressure area this morning extended from the lower Great Lakes to the Ohio Valley and was moving slowly southeastward. A warming trend today and Thursday was indicated to the back of this high pressure.

The forecast called for fair weather tonight, low in upper 20s and 30s, and increasing cloudiness Thursday, high 32-60.

FIVE DAY FORECAST
A warming trend expected through Thursday, with temperatures near normal. Highs will range near 50, with lows in the 30s. Showers Sunday or Monday to total around a quarter of an inch.

Students Besiege Suharto Office
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Four thousand students laid siege to the office of Acting President Suharto today but by the time he came out to talk to them all but 200 had drifted away.

Armored cars and troops stood between the general and the protesters as Suharto said he alone was responsible for rising price of rice and kerosene.

"I am responsible, not my ministers," he said. "If you want to take action go ahead." But he warned that if such student demonstrations continue, they will help the Communists regain influence.

CINCINNATI (AP)— Republicans not only retained control of Cincinnati's City Council but apparently increased their majority in Tuesday's election despite an all-out Democratic attempt to oust them.

Democrats in fact apparently elected only one member of the nine-man City Council. That was former U.S. representative John J. Gilligan.

That would make up a council of six Republicans two Charter Party members and the one Democrat. The GOP has had a 5-2-2 majority.

Republicans elected were William J. Keating who resigned as a Common Pleas Court judge to run and who led the field: Vice Mayor Eugene P. Ruehlmann; incumbents John Held Willis Gradison Jr. and Gordon Rich and newcomer Ralph Kohnen.

The Charter Party a combination of liberal Democrats and Republicans elected incumbents Charles P. Taft and Myron Bush. Bush will be the only Negro member of the council.

Defeated were incumbent Democrats Phil Collins and Thomas Luken. Present Mayor Walter S. Bachrach a Republican was not a candidate.

Under Cincinnati's city manager form of government the council elects the mayor from its own membership and it usually goes to the top vote-getter of the majority party.

That was Keating in Tuesday's election with Ruehlmann running second.

The mayor's job is largely ceremonial plus presiding over the council and it is not required that the leading vote-getter be selected.

A city charter amendment to allow the university of Cincinnati to affiliate with the state university system passed by a 2-1 margin. City voters also approved an 8.55 mill school levy renewal and the county voters approved an 0.3 mill levy for a police information center.

Boy Chickens Out On Tonsillectomy

WEYMOUTH, Mass. (AP)—Kenneth Baumeister, 12, was due to have his tonsils out but when he saw one of his brother after a similar operation, he got lost—fast.

He dashed from a hospital—hospital gown flowing and bare-feet flashing—and hid in a thicket of bushes 1½ mile away.

Ninety minutes later two neighbors found Kenneth and took him home. His mother said he agreed to surrender his tonsils at a later date.

That would make up a council of six Republicans two Charter Party members and the one Democrat. The GOP has had a 5-2-2 majority.

Republicans elected were William J. Keating who resigned as a Common Pleas Court judge to run and who led the field; Vice Mayor Eugene P. Ruehlmann; incumbents John Held Willis Gradison Jr. and Gordon Rich and newcomer Ralph Kohnen.

The Charter Party a combination of liberal Democrats and Republicans elected incumbents Charles P. Taft and Myron Bush. Bush will be the only Negro member of the council.

Defeated were incumbent Democrats Phil Collins and Thomas Lukens. Present Mayor Walton S. Bachrach a Republican was not a candidate.

Under Cincinnati's city manager form of government the council elects the mayor from its own membership and it usually goes to the top vote-getter of the majority party.

That was Keating in Tuesday's election with Ruehlmann running second.

The mayor's job is largely ceremonial plus presiding over the council and it is not required that the leading vote-getter be selected.

A city charter amendment to allow the university of Cincinnati to affiliate with the state university system passed by a 2-1 margin. City voters also approved an 8.55 mill school levy

Boy Chickens Out On Tonsillectomy

WEYMOUTH, Mass. (AP)— Kenneth Baumeister, 12, was due to have his tonsils out but when he saw one of his brother after a similar operation, he got lost—fast. He dashed from a hospital—hospital gown flowing and bare feet flashing—and hid in a thicket of bushes 1½ mile away.

Ninety minutes later two neighbors found Kenneth and took him home. His mother said he agreed to surrender his tonsils at a later date.

13 CHS Seniors Play Final Game

Friday night will mark the last appearance on the local gridiron for 13 Circleville High School Seniors.

The Reynoldsburg Raiders will provide the competition for Tom Wright, Rod Sines, George Hill, Bob Dean, Bob Tootle, Craig Lambert, Jim Campbell, Lynn Heath, Dick Thornton, Steve Carroll, Bruce Pontions, Jerry Myers and Bill Gates.

As freshmen, this group played on a winless frosh squad. Seniors, they are undefeated thus far this season.

The two-way players in this group are Sines, Wright, Lambert, Campbell, Carroll.

Sines is Circleville's 165-pound offensive tackle and defensive end, positions that usually are filled by much larger players.

Paul Gipson Named AP College Back

HOUSTON (AP) — University of Houston fullback Paul Gipson gave the Cougar offensive line credit today for his being named Associated Press College Back of the Week.

The 205-pound junior's performance last Saturday in the Cougars' 15-14 defeat of fifth-ranked Georgia earned him the honor.

He ground out 229 yards on 29 carries, scored on a 25-yard run and raced around end for the winning two-point conversion.

He also added a 13-yard gain and Georgia defensive halfback Terry Sellers was left groggy after tackling the bruising fullback. On the next play Houston quarterback Dick Woodall hit split end Ken Herbert with a 57-yard scoring pass. Both Houston and Georgia players felt Sellers' slightly flared condition was a big factor in Herbert's catch of the pass.

"Those guys up front did a great job all night," Gipson said of the offensive line. "Even after we muffed a couple of scoring chances, they kept opening up holes—they never gave up."

"I wanted to be the one to try for the two points after our second touchdown," Gipson added. "I didn't want to let the offensive line down after the way it had blocked for me."

It was the best showing of the year for Gipson who has been less publicized than some of his teammates despite being the club's leading ground gainer.

Leroy Kelly Is Workhorse In Cleveland Browns Attack

Almost everybody has seen Leroy Kelly, if they watch pro football.

The Cleveland Browns' back, who is doing his best to make Cleveland fans forget Jimmy Brown, may be the finest running back in all pro football right now.

He's a workhorse like Brown, has that speed, and the flash in the open field. He's not as big as Brown was, nor does he have the great extra effort the former pro grid great had.

But he can run and he wants to run so quick and fast that he's been called for man in motion several times.

When Brown was around, Kelly was the punt and kickoff return man. And a good one. He led the NFL in punt returns with 17 for 265 yards in 1965.

Last year, when Brown retired coach Blanton Collier needed someone to try to fill Jimmy's shoes. No one could, but Kelly was tabbed for the job. And what a whale of a job he did.

He led the NFL rushers most of the season until he was edged out by Gale Sayers of the Bears on the final weekend. Kelly carried the ball 209 times for 1,141 yards for a 5.5 average, best among the NFL's regular ball carriers. He also scored 15 touchdowns by rushing. His 1,141 yards rushing earned him a place in the exclusive 1,000-yard club, a grouping which only includes 11 players.

Kelly got off to a bad start this year with that striking for more pay and refusing to sign a contract. But when he was given the ball in a game, that was forgotten and he started to roam.

In eight games he has compiled 666 yards rushing, on 128 attempts for a 5.2 average. Additionally, he has caught passes for 223 yards and his combined total offense after eight games is 889 yards, more than 100 yards ahead of his nearest competitor.

Kelly was drafted eighth in 1964 after earning four football letters at Morgan State college in Baltimore, where the former star, Buddy Young, saw him and recommended the selection. He was a football and baseball star at Simon Gratz High in Philadelphia, where he was born 25 years ago.

McCullers Is Named Top Lineman

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Florida State Coach Bill Peterson got on the telephone early this fall and asked Dale McCullers if he would like to play football.

Now Memphis State is the latest opponent of the Seminoles who wished Peterson had gotten the wrong number.

McCullers, a junior linebacker, figured in more than half his team's tackles last Saturday, leading the defense that sparked Florida State over Memphis State 26-7 for its fifth straight victory.

"It was the greatest game I've ever seen a college line-backer play," said Peterson, and for that performance, McCullers was named The Associated Press Lineman of the Week today.

The 6-foot-2, 198-pounder made 17 tackles and assisted on six others as Memphis managed only 38 plays from scrimmage. He also threw Memphis quarterbacks for losses totaling 38 yards and recovered a fumble at the Seminole 21 when Memphis appeared on its way to a touchdown on the game's first series of downs.

"It was McCuller, more than anybody, who stopped their running game cold when it looked like early in the game they were going to run us off the field with it," Peterson said after Memphis gained 180 yards in the first half and only four in the second. Florida State almost lost McCullers, but for Peterson's phone call a month before the season began. Peterson had not figured on him because McCullers took a job and missed spring practice.

"We heard just before fall practice that he might be interested in coming back out for football," Peterson said, "and we gave him a call. I hate to think what shape we'd be in if we hadn't made that call."

As a junior, he moved right into the key spot guiding Circleville to a 9-1 season, and this year has continued to display the judgement and leadership which earned him the position.

Guiding this group of seniors for most of their high school career has been a veteran coaching staff headed by Paul Starr. Jim Lint is the end and squad last year, he saw action on the varsity squad as a sophomore.

Wright is the blocking back in this year's backfield and a defensive safety. He was chosen all league in the latter position last year. Although he was seldom called on to carry the ball from scrimmage, the swift Tiger halfback more than once trifled CHS grid fans with a punting return this year.

Gates made the all-league team at the defensive end position last year, a spot he has not played this season.

Weighing 165 pounds, he is a defensive specialist, playing line-backer for Circleville.

Lambert was all-league honorable mention at tackle last year. This season he has probably logged as much playing time as anyone on the team, seeing action both defensively and offensively. The 6-1, 200-pound griddler is the largest of the Circleville starters.

Campbell has been a two-way player for the past two years.

He is Circleville's tight end and defensive cornerback.

HE was tabbed for honorable mention in the league last year. One of the fiercest competitors on the team, coaches say their biggest problem with him is getting him to relax on the playing field.

Carroll was named on the honorable mention list last year as guard. Back at his familiar position this year, he has been a key blocker, springing CHS backs for the impressive gains.

Heath is strictly a defensive player. He has been the Tiger cornerback for the past two years, although as a sophomore he filled a utility role.

Heath injured his shoulder before the season and was late rounding into shape this year. He has run two blocked punts for touchdowns this year.

Dean, out for football for the first time this year, has blocked more punts than any other player on the team. A defensive and offensive end, he was the griddler who broke through

Myers is one of the shortest boys on the team, at 5-foot 4-inches. He carries 164 pounds on his stocky frame and anchors the middle of the defensive line for Circleville.

HE was on last year's honorable mention list.

Hill is another senior out for the grid sport for the first time. He plays end and takes his turn on kickoffs for the Tigers. A mid-season ankle injury hampered his play this year and he missed action in a couple of games.

Pontious is the only senior who has not started at some time or another during the year. He plays halfback for the Tigers and is a one of a host of fine replacements that has given the team more depth in the backfield than it has enjoyed for many years.

Thornton, called Thunder by his teammates, is the offensive center for Circleville. He plays exclusively on the offense.

Because of his experience, fumbles on the pass to the quarterback have been at a minimum this year. He earned the starting center position near mid season last year and has not relinquished it since.

Guiding the Circleville team is Tootle. Although his running and passing statistics are not as impressive as some of the other quarterbacks against whom Circleville has played this year, the coaches consider him one of the finest field generals in central Ohio.

TOOTLE earned his first starting role as a sophomore in the final game of the season. He had missed most of the year after sustaining an arm injury.

As a junior, he moved right into the key spot guiding Circleville to a 9-1 season, and this year has continued to display the judgement and leadership which earned him the position.

Guiding this group of seniors for most of their high school career has been a veteran coaching staff headed by Paul Starr, Jim Lint is the end and RUSHING THE PRO SEASON—When the Green Bay Packers play host to the Cleveland Browns Sunday, Nov. 12, in Milwaukee, they'll have to stop Leroy Kelly and Ernie Green of the Browns, with their offensive thrusts coming from Donny Anderson and Ben Wilson. Kelly is ranked first in the NFL in rushing with 666 yards gained while Green is ninth with 428 yards. Anderson has picked up 207 yards while Wilson, formerly with the Rams, will fill in for the injured Elijah Pitts. The last Eastern division team to beat the Packers was the New York Giants of 1959, 20 to 3.

OU Gets Shot at MAC Title Share

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Received Ohio University gets a golden opportunity to claim a piece of the Mid-American Conference football championship Saturday.

Coach Bill Hess' Bobcats, playing in their own backyard, are favored to knock off punchless Bowling Green at Peden Stadium and boost their record to 5-1.

Such a development would result in a tie with Toledo, which finished league competition in impressive fashion last week with a 24-14 triumph over Miami.

It was the Rockets' first title ever and now all that remains is to see whether Toledo owns an undisputed championship.

The Bobcats, who were getting no breaks at all, suddenly seem to be getting more than their share.

The first stroke of luck came last week when MAC Commissioner Bob James ordered Kent State to forfeit its 21-14 victory over Ohio Sept. 30 because the Golden Flashes used an ineligible player.

The Bobcats were awarded a 1-0 decision prompting one Ohio coach to quip: "It's our first shutout of the season."

The forfeiture ruined Kent's best performance of the year and, more important, gave the Bobcats new life. It also stirred up some complaints that the commissioner's ruling was unfair.

But, in defense of James, there was no other decision to make. He stayed within the league's rulebook and perhaps that's where the change is needed.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS, PICKAWAY COUNTY, OHIO
Katie L. Zeimer, Plaintiff, vs.
Paul M. Zeimer, Defendant.

NO. 24907
Katie L. Zeimer, whose place of residence is unknown and cannot, with reasonable diligence, be ascertained, will take notice that on the 6th day of June, 1957, Paul M. Zeimer filed his cross-petition against her in the Court of Common Pleas of Pickaway County, Ohio, praying for divorce, custody of minor child and equitable relief.

By MARGULIS AND GUSLER,

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF PICKAWAY COUNTY, OHIO
Joseph A. Russo, Plaintiff, vs.
Carmen G. Russo, Defendant.

NO. 24905
Carmen G. Russo, whose last known address is 194 Sunnyslope, San Jose, California, otherwise, whose place of residence is unknown, will take notice that on October 18, 1957, the undersigned filed his petition against her in the Court of Common Pleas, Pickaway County, Ohio, praying for divorce, that he be the defendant's interest in the real estate, that the Court set the amount of support he should pay for the minor children, and for other relief which may be just and proper.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF PICKAWAY COUNTY, OHIO
The Scioto Building and Loan Company of Circleville, Ohio, Plaintiff, vs.
Edward J. Kaufman, et al., Defendants.

NOTICE BY PUBLICATION
Atlas Credit Corporation, 1000 N. Broad and Ansley Avenue, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19126 and Fred E. Linville and Nellie Mae Linville who reside at Traller Haven, Box 733 A, Melbourne, Florida, will take notice that on the 22nd day of August, 1957, The Scioto Building and Loan Company of Circleville, Ohio, filed its petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Pickaway County, Ohio, in Case No. 24935 against them and other parties asking for foreclosure of mortgage and other relief in regard to real estate situated in the Township of Darby, in the County of Pickaway and in the State of Ohio, bounded and described as follows:

Being Lot two (2) of C. H. Cope-land's platted addition to the Township of Darby, County of Pickaway and described as follows: Beginning at an iron stake in the center of the Darbyville and Harrisburg Road, in the corner of lot 1; thence with said lot 1, 338 feet to the line of On Martin; thence with her line 87 feet to an iron stake; thence on the line of lot 3, 260 feet to the center of said road; thence with the said road 50 feet to the place of beginning.

Said parties are to answer on or before the 23rd day of December, 1957.

LE Board Applies for Federal Funds

The Logan Elm Board of Education Monday night authorized the application for federal assistance under Public Law 874.

If granted, the application will provide the district with an income of approximately $9,000.

The board refused to change a policy permitting only four days of basketball practice following consecutive Friday and Saturday games. The policy means no practice sessions are held the Mondays following weekends with two games on the schedule.

New basketball coach Chuck Pritchard had requested the board review its policy.

IN OTHER action, a leave of absence was granted Mrs. Frank Gifford, cook at Pickaway. Mrs. Carolyn Valentine was employed as her replacement. Mrs. Lillian Moss, Mrs. Mary Beavers and Mrs. Mary Dumm were employed as part-time cooks.

The board recognized the Logan Elm Classroom Teachers Assn. Doane Wiggins is president of the group.

Wesley Graves Jr. and Carolyn McCoy, both board members, will attend the Ohio School Boards Assn. conference in Columbus Nov. 15-17.

An advance draw of $40,000 was authorized by the board.

Ohioans Approve Remap Proposal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Ohioans spurred by heated local issues and mayors' races turned out in greater than usual number for Tuesday's off-year election but apparently the vote fell short of a predicted record.

Approval of the legislative apportionment plan—the final unofficial vote was 1,315,982 in favor of 908,844 against—ended a prolonged legal dilemma for Ohio.

Final but unofficial figures on the only statewide issue, a plan for districting of the legislature, showed approximately 2.2 million votes were cast.

That compared to a prediction by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown of 2.79 million and the record for a non-presidential year of 2.63 million in 1965.

However, Brown's office pointed out Wednesday that the total will increase when final figures are available from all local races where some voters didn't vote on the statewide issue. Addition of these could boost Tuesday's turnout to 2.5 million, it was estimated.

British Production Shows Increase

LONDON (AP)—Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan says British industrial production is on the move again after 15 months of national economic stagnation.

"There is current improvement taking place at the present time in production, in consumption, investment and in savings," Callaghan told the House of Commons Tuesday night. "And this is taking place against a background of steady prices."

'After-Game' Event Canceled by Elks

There will be no "after-game" party at the Circleville BPO Elks Lodge Friday it was announced today by Robert Huffer, exalted ruler.

Huffer said the open house was canceled because of the German Party Saturday. Limited to 110 couples, reservations are still available for the annual German Party.

Council Has Brief Session

Two Ordinances Adopted; One Held

In an abbreviated meeting of Circleville City Council Tuesday night, two ordinances were adopted and one was tabled for further study. The meeting lasted 45 minutes.

The stepped-up session was apparently due to the interest in election returns. All candidates, with the exception of Robert Turner, third ward, stood a chance of losing their council seats.

Both ordinances getting the solons' approval were money appropriations and were adopted following a first reading under a suspension of the rules.

The first was for a total of $8,800 to be credited to various accounts of the Police Department; $1,800 for the clerk and radio operator's account; $1,000 for maintenance and equipment; $100 for incidentals; $4,500 for the payroll account; $1,200 for the gas and oil account; and $200 for the personnel training account.

FRANK Barnhill, finance chairman, pointed out the appropriation was necessary because of cuts made in budgets for the year. He noted that appropriation ordinances are always heavy at the year's end, due to the yearly budget cuts attributed to the city's close financial status.

The second ordinance gaining approval was for the appropriation of $1,200 to be credited to the Water Works operating fund. The money is to be used for salaries, extra labor and fuel.

Tabled was an ordinance dealing with the payment for services in updating a map that shows city easements, city property and underground utilities including the city's sewer system.

The ordinance referred to the map as a "tax map." Solicitor Kenneth Robbins questioned wording of the ordinance claiming there was no provision in law that gave council authority to spend money for a "tax map."

It was referred back to the service committee for re-drafting and will be presented at the next meeting.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

John Jenkins, chairman of the safety committee, read a letter from the Health Board asking for an extra nurse for the department the letter also asked for a change in the policy involving payment of the city health nurse for mileage. The request is that she be paid 10 cents for all mileage. A limitation is currently in effect.

CHIEF of Police Robert Temple informed council that he had lost another 10-year veteran with his department. He noted that another man is expected to resign.

Temple also noted that a survey of officers' patrol routes was taken recently. He said that cruisers are now being used more for more thorough patrolling of the city.

Adjournment of the meeting happened so fast that one councilman didn't realize it until "it was all over."

Borough Elects Women to Posts

SAYREVILLE, N.J. (AP) — This small Middlesex County borough put control of its local government in the hands of four housewives Tuesday night, electing the "Democratic distaff slate."

Mary M. Peggy Kerr, the mother of four, defeated Republican John T. Lindson in the mayor's race.

Florence Koval and Dorothy Carter defeated male Republican opponents Samuel Elacqua and Joseph C. Prato for three-year terms on the borough council. Dolores Zaccardi beat Republican Joseph J. Wroblewski.

Council Has Brief Session

Two Ordinances Adopted; One Held

In an abbreviated meeting of Circleville City Council Tuesday night, two ordinances were adopted and one was tabled for further study. The meeting lasted 45 minutes.

The stepped-up session was apparently due to the interest in election returns. All candidates, with the exception of Robert Turner, third ward, stood a chance of losing their council seats.

Both ordinances getting the council's approval were money appropriations and were adopted following a first reading under a suspension of the rules.

The first was for a total of $8,800 to be credited to various accounts of the Police Department; $1,800 for the clerk and radio operator's account; $1,000 for maintenance and equipment; $100 for incidentals; $4,500 for the payroll account; $1,200 for the gas and oil account; and $200 for the personnel training account.

FRANK Barnhill, finance chairman, pointed out the appropriation was necessary because of cuts made in budgets for the year. He noted that appropriation ordinances are always heavy at the year's end, due to the yearly budget cuts attributed to the city's close financial status.

The second ordinance gaining approval was for the appropriation of $1,200 to be credited to the Water Works operating fund. The money is to be used for salaries, extra labor and fuel.

Tabled was an ordinance dealing with the payment for services in updating a map that shows city easements, city property and underground utilities including the city's sewer system.

The ordinance referred to the map as a "tax map." Solicitor Kenneth Robbins questioned wording of the ordinance claiming there was no provision in law that gave council authority to spend money for a "tax map."

It was referred back to the service committee for re-drafting and will be presented at the next meeting.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

John Jenkins, chairman of the safety committee, read a letter from the Health Board asking for an extra nurse for the department the letter also asked for a change in the policy involving payment of the city health nurse for mileage. The request is that she be paid 10 cents for all mileage. A limitation is currently in effect.

CHIEF of Police Robert Temple informed council that he had lost another 10-year veteran with his department. He noted that another man is expected to resign.

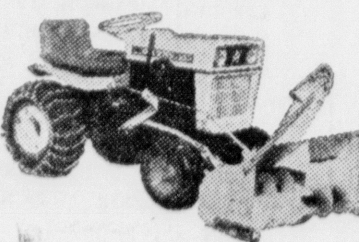

Temple also noted that a survey of officers' patrol routes was taken recently. He said that cruisers are now being used more for more thorough patrolling of the city.

Adjournment of the meeting happened so fast that one councilman didn't realize it until "it was all over."

PTO Meeting Set

The Pickaway Twp. Parent Teacher Organization will meet 8 p.m. Thursday in the school auditorium.
